THE PERFECT BALANCE

In 1927 McCormack Hall (left) greatly increased the facilities of Vancouver College. Boarders from as far as Calgary would now be accommodated. Standing in its magnificence (centre) is Lannon Hall while the Brothers' Residence can be distinguished in the background.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

Vancouver College is a small-scale mosaic of our world community. Here we unite in a brotherhood of many international cultures to learn about this only life we have. From Kindergarten to high school graduation we explore and discover ourselves, the world, and beyond.

We constantly attempt to achieve a balanced, wholesome development. While today we use our unique, innovative styles and we tend to various relevancies, we draw from a rich and proud history of seventy years. As individuals and as teams we persistently put our strengths and weaknesses to the test in the classroom, on the field, and in the chapel. As we pursue excellence we learn to be tolerant and encouraging, aiming to develop the strength of character and the love of community. Along the way we experience many successes

K. ALEXANDER ALGARD

Klaus has been involved in all facets of VC life during his 2 year stay. He was a punishing force on the soccer team and led the tennis team to silver. Unforgettable and forgettable memories: doing the splits with Jammer and Chug, waking up the neighborhood at Sue's (CF's jeans), going to Columbia, Pepita's with Japes, and Encounter #1. The handsome U could be found having hoagies with Webber or rooting with the K2 connection. Special thanks to Suze, his friends, and the family for being there. To the Grads of '92 and the rest of VC: "I'll be back . . ."

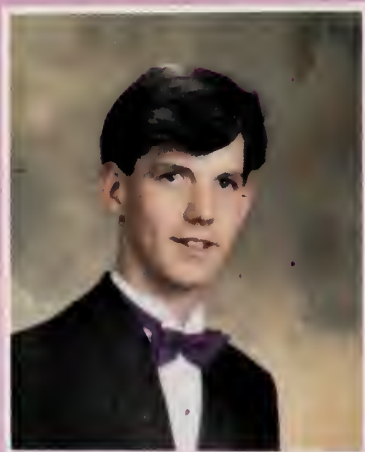

APOSTOLOS ANASTASSIOU

Toli has been battling days at VC for 5 years. Throughout his experiences he has gathered memories he will never forget, especially, Mr. Lattimer's religion class in Grade 8. Future plans: attending a post secondary institution and then leaving for the Island of his dreams, Ios, Greece. Thanks friends (you know who you are!). Most importantly, thanks to his parents who guided him along the way. "Life itself is a race, marked by a start and a finish. It is what we learn during the race and how we apply it that determines whether our participation has had particular value . . ." Professor Porsche.

JAHMAL SHANE ARCAND

Special thanks to Joe Burke, Mom, Clark, Grama, Alex (Terminator), Simon, Nidia, Sabrina, The MacKenzies, The Sabatinos, Mr. Budai, Anna, Gruber, Dave VP, and of course Jeff and Nial. Thanks JP, Moe, Trisha, and anyone else who made a difference. FM's: skiing, Whistler, Br. French's Math class, tutorials w/ the Great One, Track, Robson, Eagle Harbour, Summer '88, P.P: stealing tigers in Lynn Valley. Ambition: ski lots, be rich. Most likely: marry an Italian. Quote: "Yes, there are two paths you can go by, but in the long run, there's still time to change the road you're on."

THOMAS S. ARCHER

Tom stepped into the hallowed halls of VC ten long years ago and can still remember his first thought: "God, this place is huge!" During his time at VC he has received much advice. He shares this: get to know your teachers; they are the key to your stay here being the best years of your life. FM's: Agrodome fans, dances, Grad '92, and the formative years of his life. Thanks to MG, AC, JS, MB, AB, and all the grads of '92 for making his stay at VC bearable.

JAMES ARCILLA

James has endured 5 great, long years at VC. He wishes that it would never end, but reality has set in and he must now tackle new challenges. Great memories include Leo's classes, writing the speech, tribal beating '91, and being busted. Special thanks goes out to all my good friends. Together we can achieve our goals and desires. Finally, without God and my loving family, nothing would be possible. "Every man is the architect of his own fortune." (Sallust)

JAMIESON KEVIN ARIAS

Arriving at VC twelve years ago, Kevin, aka Cecil, has made the Irish lifestyle very memorable from academics, sports, student council, yearbook, and those incredible VC dances. FM's: Xmas '90, summer '91 - Farkas, Cecil, Marchi j-fest and V-ball with Jeannete, Luong and Peter. In the future, Kevin will reach greater heights never reached before by a mere mortal. A genuine thanks to the M family, JM and Jasmine - luv ya! for all the caring support. Special thanks to Mom and Dad for guidance and inspiration throughout the years. "The world makes way for a man who knows where he's going."

ADRIAN W.H. AU

Leaving Grade 7 at St Francis Xavier, he went to Grade 8 at Vancouver College. At the beginning, Adrian's mind was in confusion as he adjusted to walking to different rooms for different subjects and classes. Now, five years later, graduation is here and the time has come for him to move on to university. For Adrian, medicine seems to be his path, and UBC, the new environment. Although he has gone on, life at VC will always be in his memory. Thanks for your friendship and support: DH, CL, AL, PL, TL, XM.

CHRISTOPHER BLAIR AUSTIN

Chris has attended VC since Grade 8. During his four years, he's had a lot of fun times that won't be forgotten. The drives down to McDee's everyday, chopping through the forest on walk-a-thon, and the MaGee drive byes will be remembered forever. Chris thanks his parents for all the love and support they gave him throughout the years; also his friends that made VC worthwhile: Taki, Marc, Justin, Mike, Taal, and Jim. Good luck to all the grads in the future. We made it!

ERIC SALVADOR BALANA

Chimo came to VC from ESS 5 years ago. He played Irish Soccer, helped make the Collegian sparkle (x2), and played horn on Band trips to Kelowna, Victoria, Toronto (I met Erica Ehm!). Memories: coffee & walk with Juan Valdez, Axelex (Jazzy), Pugs, Lewis, George, Dans, Mud Bowl, the Breakfast Club, and funkling out w/ da posse (word!). Thanx: Mr. Olson (Agent Cooper), Extreme, "Rare Breed", Grads of '92 for shaping lime-light. Indafutchu: moolah-making thru advertising, making the world a better place with music, and shooting pool w/ Miss Applegate. Tanks Mom, Dad and Ate. "Nothin' lasts forever, even cold November rain. Yowza!"

GREGORY MICHAEL BALDWIN

Greg has been attending V.C. for five years. He was involved in the football program since Grade 8 and was very proud to be a part of the "Fighting Irish". He especially thanks the coaches for their hard work and dedication over the years. He thanks his friends Brian, Tyler and L.J. for the memories and the great times and especially thanks Sandra for always being there. "Don't be afraid to go out on a limb, that is where the fruit is." Good luck in the future to the grads of '92.

NATHAN TYLER BARNES

Nate came to VC two years ago and he's been partying ever since. Nate thanks all his new buds at VC (you know who you are) and the Royal Family for always being there. Good times include Spring Break and New Years at Whistler, Osoyoos, Farkas and Oz's bashes, Sue's, the tracks and Homecoming. Special thanks to Mom and Dad for their continuous inspiration and to DR for her never ending support. "A friend is not a shadow that is present only when the sun shines."

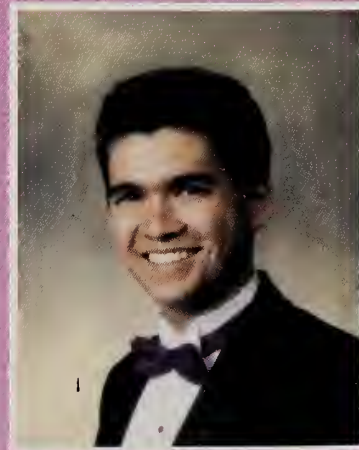

THOMAS EDWARD NIAL BARRETT

Nial, a.k.a. attitude, has terrorized the halls of College since the first grade and has basically conquered it all. Nial will be remembered for the tude and the taunts. FM's include ghetto, parties and of course Ireland every summer. Thanks to his friends, Mark, Japes, Lance, Lubbs, Web, Jam and Joey, Stealth, Jerry, Mooch and K2. Nial will look forward to Pres next year and JJ's two year plan. Special thanks to all the Irish, family and friends, especially to his parents who have shown their love and support throughout the years. "It's only a state of grace."

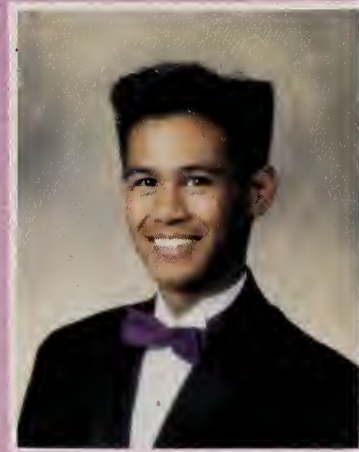

TAALBINO O. BASTIEN

The Metis had the hardest time deciding what to write for grad. He had so many people to thank and so many friends to mention. Plus, the one thing he wanted to include, his appreciation for all the memories he'd shared with everyone, he couldn't find words enough to express. So all he could do was offer his best wishes and gratitude to Grad '92 for making the past 5 years tres cool, and hope their dreams come true. SP's: Taki, Dan, Chris, Elliot, BME, Dave, Matt, Alex, SM's: the past 5 years.

RAYMUND EALEY BATERINA

Raymund has attended V.C. since grade eight. Since then, his involvement in wrestling, yearbook, football, and being with his friends has made his stay enjoyable. F.M.'s: Physics with Ian, Chuck, and J-R ('til dawn), Summers in Cali, B-ball, sightseeing and chillin' with Jeff. He sends special thanks to his friends and family (esp. his Mom for her love and support throughout the years), and to God for His many blessings. To DABOYZ, S.J. ORIGINALS, LAYOUT, K.L. (Mare), to GRADS '92 and PUNISHMENT 'N' PLEASURE - forever. PEACE. "Imagination is more important than knowledge." (Einstein)

JEFFREY BORGEN

Since arriving at V.C. in gr. 8, Jeff has achieved honor roll status several times while also participating in a number of extra curricular activities including track, band and football. Some of his favorite memories include going to the Nationals with the band and the Finals in football. Jeff would like to thank his parents for their patience and support. He plans to spend the next several years at U.B.C. and hopes that the years he has enjoyed at V.C. will help him along the way.

AARON TYLER BRIND

Aaron has been attending VC for six years. He has enjoyed every year, some years more than others. He has participated on the rowing crew and cross-country team. Aaron has some great memories of San Diego with the rowing crew and the many dances he has attended. He would like to thank his "family" for their support and all his friends. Special thanks to Marc, Steve, Rick, Paul, Tom and the rest of the boys. The last six years have been memorable and he'll remember them forever.

ADAM BEAUDIN-BALL

Adam thinks that he is one of the privileged few who doesn't live below sea level. He thanks John McNamara and Mike Lopez for making Japanese class his funniest, Carlos Ormond and Andrew Cochran for their insight on the pursuit of "Happiness", Tony Bulic "Vive le . . . libre" - straight from the Quebecker's mouth, Steve Carvalho, Glenn "Joobu" How, the only guy in school that would save money with an 800 number. Adam will attend UBC in the Faculties of Commerce and Law. Mrs. Small, Mr. Accili, thanks for your patience and fairness. Oh yeah, tanks Mum and Dad, La. Keep on laughing.

MATTHEW GRAEME BROWN

Matt has been attending VC since Grade 11, and in that short time, he has accumulated many lifelong memories and friendships and an understanding of the term brotherhood. Favorite memories include parties, band trips and dances. Matt cherishes the times with the ditch crew especially Graeme and Chris. Matt thanks his teachers and a special thanx to his family for their love and support through the years. Future plans include UBC and a law degree and proving to the world that he is the best. "Lose your dreams, and you will lose your mind."

MARC-ANTOINE RAYMOND BONNIER

Marc has been bouncing off the walls of VC since Grade 8. In Grade 12, he participated on the soccer team, tennis team, and the track team. Highlights of his Grade 12 school year was when he went to Hawaii with the school soccer team during Christmas for 2 weeks . . . and when he went to Hawaii with Andrew, Jay, Archer and ? during Spring break without any parental guidance for a week . . . just imagine . . . After grad, he intends to somehow pull off a commerce degree at UBC. He thanks his family, and sends his best wishes for the grads.

TONY BULIC

Tony's five years at VC have been memorable. He has participated in all aspects of school life, ranging from soccer, track, Encounter and supporting the Fighting I football and basketball teams. Most favorable moments include skiing, McD's at lunch, VC dances, and preaching the Croatian Truth. He thanks TG, JH, CA, MR, AC (Rex), RZ, MM, AB, all the teachers and especially his parents who have supported and guided him throughout the years. "One friend in a lifetime is much; two are many; three are hardly possible."

JUSTIN ANDREW BYRNE

Justin has been jammin the VC vortex for 5 years and doesn't want to stop now. FLASHBACK! Bungy with Mike, Bowen, Chilliwack, Fantacid, trips to the Planetarium light show, Irish connection and the tall boy mission, hootin up with Strench, Pugs n' Tay, Truckin round town with the troopers, philosophical garbage, soccer, and choice bashes in Ladner/ Richmond. In the future Justin hopes to earn a degree in something or another and open up a school of time travel. Special thanks to Mohammed, Gruber, Adam, Jason, Davie, parentals, and most of all his eternal pal Doctor Who. Ta-ta to all.

ALEXANDER L. CHAPMAN

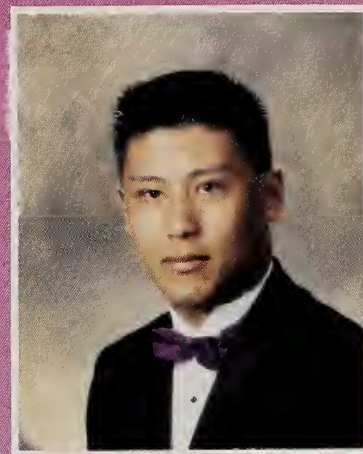

Since Grade 8 Alex has been attending V.C. With every new year came new friends, and teachers. His five year stay has been fun, and definitely memorable. F.M.'s: skiing, car wars, McD.'s, Whistler, the "green Machine", the "black beast", girls. Thanks to T.B. (Croatia lives!), K.L., R.H., J.C., A.C., for being great friends, now and forever. Thanks to my family, parents for everything. Best of luck to '92 grads. "Life is only as good as you make it."

STEVEN I. CARVALHO

Steven has been attending Vancouver College for the past eleven years. While maintaining a high GPA, Steven has participated in many extracurricular activities. Steven has been actively involved in the student council (VP '91), peer tutoring, Encounter, public speaking, debating, and The Voice. Fond memories include: VYP, The Flying U, Bio class and Calc. In the future, Steven plans to attend university in the Faculty of Science. Steven thanks his parents and Alison for their guidance and support. See you later: Shawny, Beaudin, Joe, Andrew, Darren & co., Rob, Matt, Moreno and Willis.

BRYAN CHIU

Bryan has been attending V.C. for six years. He has been involved in the football program since Grade 8. He thanks all his coaches for their help. He also thanks his parents and sister for their support and his friends Greg, L.J. and Tyler for the memories. He would especially like to thank Paul and Grant for all the great times. In the future, Bryan hopes to continue playing football at an American university and one day make millions. Special thanks to Julie for always being there.

REGINALD HUGH CHAN

Reggie has been in VC since Grade 8. He participated mainly in the Voice and had a blast through all the years. Without the help of his Mom, Dad, Denise, Rob, Ryan, Damien, Adrian and the rest of his friends, he wouldn't have been able to go anywhere. He plans to go into Computer Science and Business in either UBC or SFU. Good luck to all the Grads of '92.

ERIC CHOI

"Chwa" has been making the trek out of the West End to V.C. for 5 long years. The academic and athletic experience he has gained from College has been invaluable. Memories include 7-11's, Robson, R.R., Edmonton '89, FT contest, front row at Bulls/Sonics, K² jr. golf, and ghetto f-ball. Choi thanks the good Lord, his parents, his grandma, and all his friends for being there, even Kevin A., Jim M., Steve M., Chris R., Jason S., and Melvin P. "Mark my words, I will drive a car, and then I'll be chillin'." Peace, luv, and happiness.

STEPHEN C. CHAN

Stephen has been here for an eternity, a full two years. However, his quest for knowledge began at Eric Hamber. Now he moves on to greater and higher forms of life. He thanks all the special people who helped him along his way: the makers of Steve, his Mom, Dad, and his friends et cetera. As life moves on, so does he. The best is yet to come. "But remember, most of all, 'Life is only what you make of it.'"

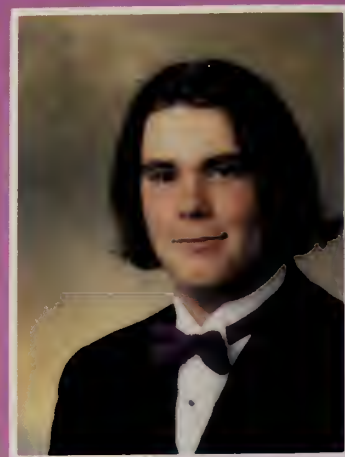

DAVID CLUTTERHAM

Dave came to VC from the frozen north 4 years ago. Since then he has been fighting the rush hour traffic every morning on his trek from Tsawwassen to VC. He remembers the great times he has had at Whistler, Shannon Falls, Mud Bowls, partying with the troopers. Dave thanks his friends Brian, Jay, Mike, Adam, Dave, Justin, Mooch, Luong, for all the great times. He thanks his parents for all their support. "It's not whether you get knocked down, but whether you get back up." (Vince Lombardi)

PHILIPPE ANDEREE CROZE

WukChuck Nini came to VC in '87 and has enjoyed his 5 year stay. He played football and is awaiting a ring (or letter). He has spent his years dodging the 3 Musketeers (Joe, Joe, and Dario). He shall escape them. Many thanks to the people who filled the Gatorade bottle, the people at Hasty's, the Slick Spic, the Dark One, Shaggy, Led Zeppelin, Jimi Hendrix, and his parents. Phil is still (rhyme!) thinking of what's he's going to do for the future, but "scuse me while I kiss the sky!"

ANDREW COCHRAN

Andrew came to VC in Grade 8. He has participated in Cross-country, track, Wrestling and even honor roll a couple of times. He thanks his friends TA, AB, MB, SC, MG, PH, DK, ML, CO, JS. Highlights: silver at Saskatoon '91, BC's in Prince George, and dinner at Archer's. After graduating Andrew hopes to attend a university in the US and extend his illustrious baseball career. Good luck and good times to the grads of '92.

GRAEME MATTHEW D'ARCY

Graeme trecked to College for five years. The party and pit crew of years past and present contributed a lifetime of memories. Adventures with Cowboy Bob, the Brew Crew of Spring 92 and the Whistler by Night Tour were memorable. Thanks to friends Matt, Dave, Mooch, Emily and "Chainsaw" McMillian for adding to the good times. Although Graeme has changed tremendously over the years one thing remained constant, that's his best friend Chris. Catch ya on the slopes bud! Parting remarks: "Synchronize your ambitions now, be the first to score!" For the outlaw always wins!" S.S.S.

JAMIE COLES

The god of fire bore him forth upon the earth to wreak havoc within the halls of VC. Jamie's favorite moments: liberating himself from classes and going for the all time late record. Otherwise, he's a charming fellow.

GIL DA ROZA

Gil "the Thrill" moved here from Winnipeg, Man., over the summer to join VC and the Varsity football team. The "Thrill Master" could often be seen cruising in the jeep with a piece of licorice in his mouth and bills pin on his side. He also had time for a job at Shoppers, big success! Where ya going? He'll find out once he gets there. He'd like to thank his parents, family, friends and the Buffalo Bills for winning the Superbowl. Live fast.

MARK CHRISTOPHER PETER CONLIN

The long trek from Upper Canada (North Van) became an endeavour Mark could not endure. Consequently he left three years at VC behind and attended STA for Gr. 11. He gained a few good friends and more good times, yet decided to rejoin the crew. He prepared to graduate from VC like his father did 38 years ago. Mark's favorite memories include band trip to Kelowna, the two crews, and home-room 9-3. Thanks Mr. Lattimer for all I learned. Mark also thanks his friends for good times in '91. Looking at '92; future's bright!

MARK DOBINSON

Mark's been involved in Wrestling and Band during his stay at VC. After graduation Mark plans to attend BCIT in Broadcast Communications, and work at a recording studio or radio station. Mark had 70 lates by Xmas last year and could be found at A&W downtown with DL & MC. Mark thanks DR, MJ, PO (the North Van Gang) for all the great memories - it's been a classic! He hopes that all undergrads will keep studying hard (not). "For those about to rock - We salute you" B. Johnson AC/DC. See y'all!

LAWRENCE JAMES EIBEN

L.J. was sentenced to VC in Grade 8 from Cougar Canyon Elementary in beautiful North Delta. While at VC, LJ has participated in football from grade 8 to 12 and also attempted to play basketball. LJ hopes to pursue a football career at a big name American University on a football scholarship. LJ thanks his parents, all the staff and his friends, and wishes the best of luck to the Grads of '92. "If you have done it, it isn't bragging."

PETER GRANT EIDET

Born 500 years late The Dark One travels his empire fully armoured on his trusty steed: the jeep. He thanks his friends at VC for turning school into a teacher's hell. He fondly remembers Carlos knocking him down the stairs on his birthday, causing him to suffer a broken foot. He remembers "soggy diapers that leak" (right WukChuck Nini?) The Dark One enjoyed the "Orc Campaign" at Manning (with the Voodoo Child, WCNN, Sal, Fletch et al.) and is looking forward to more campaigns. Thanks JC. "Some people never learn to keep their mouths shut" - Gort

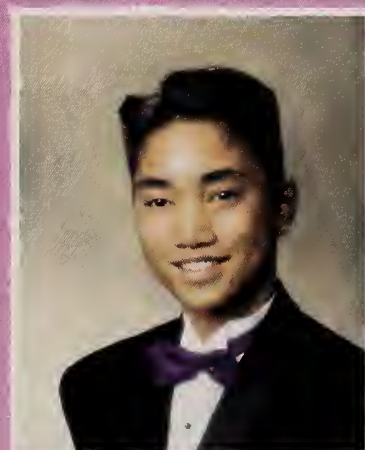

TOBY FRANCIS ELLIS

The Mango boy has been at VC for 4 years and can be found nearby Club Med wearing his Vikings parka. He has enjoyed playing Varsity Football and being part of the Gaelic Dance Club. He would like to thank Oz, Nate, Ganj, Gunns, Farkas, Tommy K & Gerry for good times in the Renny. Mango will always remember Bickins, Taters & Nuggets, Sandollar, tracks, Jets in stairwell, Goolah, Bull Durham, Shpox. Thanks to his supportive parents and everyone else; it's been great. "It takes two to tango, but only me to Mango." Noggin '92

ANTHONY EVANGELISTA

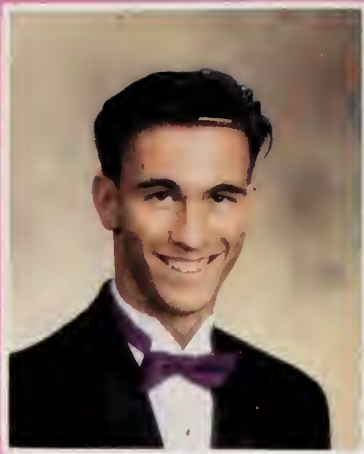

Coming to V.C. two weeks into this school year, Anthony had to make a big change. But through a lot of hard work and patience, he made it through the transition. Anthony thanks his parents and friends. He says, "ssst" To the boys of the Flip-posse, stay in the M&M and O.R.A.R. forever! Quwaite! Crew '92 in effect! Ke-Ba." P.S. "Hi Yoshi. Hi Shirley. Luv ya both!"

JEFFREY NICHOLAS FAJARDO

After five enlightening years at V.C., Jeff has learned much about himself and others. He now looks to the future with confidence, happiness, and fond memories. F.M.'s; Summa in Cali, Dgyrlz-Reno, sightseeing with Ray, dabeach, b-ball, Hallow'n with Ronny, loops with Herm, 'Mel' burnbud, Robson with Elio, honour roll, Almighty God, his parents and grandparents for their love and concern. Also to LAYOUT CREW, S.J. ORIGINALZ, BME, and Punishment N' Pleasure-forever. "Time passes by, time comes, but the memories abide forever."

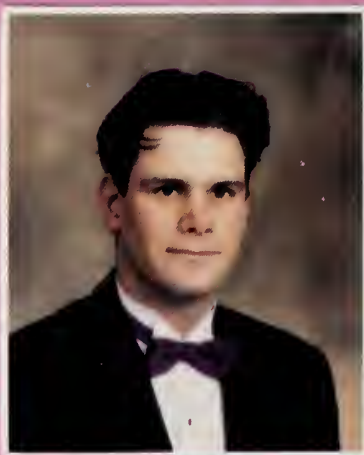

CHRISTOPHER ALMOS FARKAS

Five long years of labour and toil leave Chris with no regrets. In those years he has practised and fined tuned the art of situation Bolshevik. FM's: Fests at Susie's, Whistler (apocalypse now?), 16th (thanks Mel), Denny's, Canada Day weekend, Encounter, Duffer, and especially Pres. '91-'92 (thanks Kent). To friends Mark, Amber, Mango, Alex, Pete (eh), Gerald, Snack, Cecil, and Jim - Hey, free dummy! Special thanks to his parents, Nick and Helen for their love and support. Future accomplishments include a law degree, and figuring out deep thoughts - memorandum: "The hardest knife ill-used doth lose its edge."

CHRISTOPHER STEVEN FRANKS

Chris, alias Pele, came to VC in Gr. 8 and has since participated in many school activities including basketball, cross country running, the lettermen's association, soccer, and track. Fond memories at VC include the Bball trip to Edmonton, Gr. 9 with Br. Duff and Mr. Accili, after-class tag team bouts with TZ, CR, SM, and PO (aka Pester), Pender, and "mud-Bowls" at Quilchena. Chris especially thanks his parents for their support and all of his teachers and friends who have helped him through the years. "Well, that's the news and I am outta here!" (Dennis Miller SNL)

MICA AARON FEDERAL

Mica came to VC 6 years ago and has enjoyed his life here tremendously. He has had many highlights in his time at VC, such as basketball from Grade 7, Grade 8 football, the letterman's association and the fighting Irish cheering section. Other notables: biker bashing in the Canada K with PW and PO, trip to O'Dea and the Stanley Park Indy. Special thanks to the coaches Corbett and Rogers for their patience, Mr. D., Carlos and most of all my parents. From the boys in the smoke pit to the Brick crew thanks for the good times.

AARON CHARLES FITTERER

Big Gunns has been partying at College for 5 years. Through these years Aaron's been a part of football, Lettermen's Association and dance committees. FM's include Oregon, tracks dances lombada, skiing, club med, sscock tones, lagoon, hallowe'ens, gummers parties, New Years, sub, try hard, jet, chai, concerts, springbreak, and many more great times with Simon, Toby, Peter, Dave, Andrew, Mark, Laura and Christian. "When you run out of time, you see the great things in life. When you are here enjoy them." Good luck '92. Noggin '92.

ANDREW MORGAN FORREST

About six years ago from a farmland far, far away, Andrew came to VC in the hopes of being disciplined into a mature young man. Throughout his quest, Andrew has enjoyed playing football and being a part of the fighting Irish spirit. Andrew thanks Dave, Peter, Richard and all of his friends for the many good times shared here at College. The Magic Bus, City Storm '91, and all of the STUD parties; these, as well as the grads of '92 will remain a part of Andrew forever. "Many dreams come true, and some have silver linings." (Zeppelin)

PANAGIOTIS TAKIS GALANOPOULOS

As he wakes up every morning, Zeus (Taki) gazes upon the beauty of Mount Olympus (Burnaby). He prepares his chariot (Hyundai Pony) for the journey to paradise (V.C.). He thanks his gods of: war (Nick), wisdom (Taal), love (Kathleen), friendship (Marc, Chris), jokes (Mike) and money (Justin). The titans (Mom & Dad) gave Zeus the extra willingness to achieve excellence using Hades (Sunrise Pizza) as an incentive. Mount Seymour (LFA) also sparks great memories of joy. Wise words from Taki: "Think positive. Use love as your guide, be friendly and caring and life's splendors shall be yours."

JEFFREY DEAN GENTILE

Jeff has avoided expulsion for twelve years and survived. "The Snake" could be seen at V.C. causing trouble and competing in track. V.C. has given him responsibility, morals, and awareness. Thanks to best friends Japes, S.H., Nial, Adrienne, Tasic and especially Jammer. Special thanks to God, his parents and Budai for all their time and help. F.M.'s Br. French's math class, skipping Budai's tutorials, Robson and most of all yelling "Yeah!". These have been the best years of his life and he will always cherish them. Future plans include sports broadcasting and teaching physical education. "Image is everything!" - Andre Agassi

MATTHEW GENTLEMAN

Matt has graced Vancouver College with his presence for six long years. His most memorable moments were English 10, North Van with Spanky and Gilligan's Island. He enjoys cruising around, and watching car races. Matt thanks Ruby, TA, AC, for making his stay easier. He hopes to keep athletics in his schedule and continue his education in further fields such as Business. Matt thanks the teachers for all their help in these last six glorious years (not!). Good luck to all the grads.

SHAWNY SEBASTIAN GEORGE

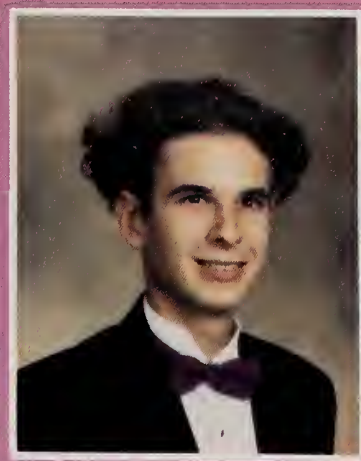

Shawn has devoted most of his time to VC to getting rid of the "Y", slave labour for the Football Team, and trying to find time for (his own) homework. His future plans include college and med school at an American university. FM's: Encounter, the physics all-nighter, Oregon Football '89-'91 (udownwitopp), and Francis' lunchtime disses. Special thanx to his family for their support, TLP, BME, Carv & Co., his football team pals and friends at VC and beyond. "Love is only chatter, friends are all that matter."

CRAIG I. GRAHAM

Craig came to VC in Grade 8 from the west end of Vancouver. Much of the time Craig could be found down at Jericho Beach either windsurfing or sailing. Fond memories include Science with Mr. Accili, Consumers with Mr. Adams, and Accounting with Mr. D. Craig thanks his parents, grandma, and all his friends, especially TA, KC, and all the LB gang. All the best Grad '92.

GEORGE JACOB PAUL GRIMM

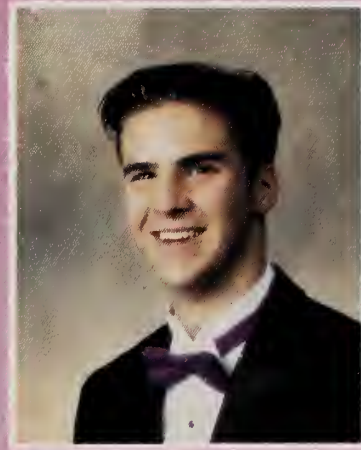

George arrived at VC in Grade 8 and ever since has developed a liking for the school. The past few years have provided him with many memories, including a journey down smokey salmon way on a certain foggy evening. George hopes to attend university or some other form of higher education. George would like to thank teachers and friends for their knowledge and entertainment, especially Ma, Pa, Lar, and JC. "The majority of those who put together collections of verses or epigrams resemble those who eat cherries or oysters; they begin by choosing the best and end by eating everything." (Chamfort)

JEFFREY GRUBER

"Webber" has been "scamming the system" of V.C. for 12 years. Favorite memories include: spring break '89; unbreakable Lambs; Duff sleepovers; Han study sessions; Robson; Hawaii, cruising/sleeping in the LN-7; and Fraser with Oz. Jeff thanks: Simon; Mark; Justin; Alex, Jahmal; 12 year gang; Mr. Burke; Mr. Freire; and anybody who has helped him; special thanks to Christine for all her love and support throughout the years. Jeff hopes to pursue a degree in business and become filthy rich; but until then he has learned to enjoy everyday for what it's worth, and to make everyday worthwhile.

MARC GUMINSKI

Marc has been coming to VC for five years. Each year has become more memorable than the last. Fond memories include: Edmonton and Hawaii, lunch with dabobs, especially LA's lunches, November '90 dance (not!) and weekends with the "family". Marc will never forget summer '91 with JR. Marc thanks his family and friends throughout the years. Special thanks to Aaron, Bill, Steve, Luca, Rick and the rest of the crew for making the last five years memorable ones. Later.

SIMON HAN

Simon often vibrated Civics off the road on his short journeys to VC for the past 5 years. He also listened to his boomin' system on the strip (you know which one). At home, after his ears stopped bleeding, SH listened to Floyd quietly while doing his homework and making that GPA. He thanks the handsome halfbreed, R-neck, R-head, Lubbits, the Seoul twins, Jammer and of course, Webber (I got good value out of our friendship!) Also a special thanks to his loving parents. "You wanna play rough? OK, say hello to my little friend . . . boom!"

DAMIEN C.L. HO

Damien came to VC in grade 7. For seven years, he has had his peaks and valleys. It has been like trying to climb a mountain. Finally, he has conquered the summit. Without the help of his parents, teachers, and his true friends, he would have never made it to the top. His greatest memories include: Flying U Ranch, intramurals, and lunchtime football. He would like to wish much success to the grads of '92. "The future's so bright, I gotta wear shades."

SIMON PSHYK-HARRISON

Norm has been coming to VC from the vast underwater wasteland of Richmond for the past five years. Some of his greatest memories include: the trax, BC Place, cyber redman, ghetto football (dogpound), Hallowe'en, Encounter, Oz's (sink) and the car chase. Thanx to biggunns, Oz, Dave, Peter, Drew, Toby, Leon, Nate, Tyler, Bill, the BSP and many more. Future plans include going to UBC on a cyber scholarship and minoring in commerce. "Life's like a barstool and then you sit on one for the rest of your life." NORRM.

DARREN RICHARD HOEGLER

Darren has been coming to V.C. for the past five years from the depths of Ladner. His stay has come to be known as very memorable, though it may not have always seemed like it. Memories include Irish soccer, ski activities, Honour Roll, fan support at Football and Basketball games, and Calculus. Darren thanks all his friends for the good times, in particular Steve, Matt, Marc, Jay, Kelly and Ian. Future plans include attending university and studying commerce. Best of luck to all the Grads of '92.

JUSTIN MICHAEL PIERRE HOFFMANN

Justin came to V.C. in Grade 8. He has been involved in track and field for the whole 5 years. But he can best remember hanging out with da boyz. Unfortunately, there will be no more Road Wars (that means you, Taki), time travel theories (Mike . . .), Kim Mitchell (that's for you Marc), or new business ideas (eh, Chris). Hoffmann, or better known as Hoffgyver thanks his parents, friends, teachers, C.C and C.M. for making this the best 5 years so far. Ski forever!

JOHN HERMANN

I regretted leaving my friends in Toronto, but I met new ones when I flew here for grade 12. Vancouver College is similar to my old school, De La Salle College. Dress codes, Brothers, the campus, the sister school's campus; academic and athletic excellence, pride, but most important: students. VC is also different but I have learnt while adjusting. I'm set on a career in Computer Science. Life is too short for hesitation. You see the vision; you go for it. Live for others; you will find a realm of Peace. Live what you believe; you will find Yourself.

ELLIOT Y.K. HONG

As Elliot leaves the halls of VC after six long years, he brings with him many unforgettable memories. He has learned much about himself and others, but his life long education continues. He thanks his friends, family and God for their love and support. Special thanks to AM (bro), ML (iou sir), Da Squires and BME for the good times. The memories will live with him forever. Without today, there is no tomorrow. To no longer dream is to give up on life. It's time to find the answer. "Carpe diem." (Seize the day.)

GLENN CHRISTOPHER HOW

Glenn came to V.C. in Grade 8. Since then he has participated in a wide range of activities: football, track, rowing, and yearbook. Glenn thanks BME friends, teachers (especially Mrs. Small) and the Hotline numbers (Herman Kwan, Shawn George, Adam Beaudin-Ball (Joubu), Constant Leung). F.M.'s: Encounter, Aberdeen, Physics all nighter, and Joubu's jokes. He extends his gratitude to his parents and family for their love and support. Good luck grad '92. "To a healthy mind the world is a constant challenge of opportunities."

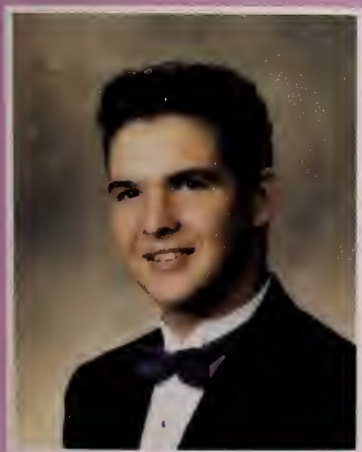

DAVID J. IRVING

David came to Vancouver College under the guise of a better education. What he found here was a school with teachers that actually cared about how you do. He also discovered a great athletic program. So in Grade 9 he joined the Football team, attended all the Varsity games, supported all the Basketball teams and played intramurals. In grade 10 he was asked to play Varsity Football, and at the end of the season, he was awarded a letter. Dave thanks all the people who made his stay at VC the best it could be.

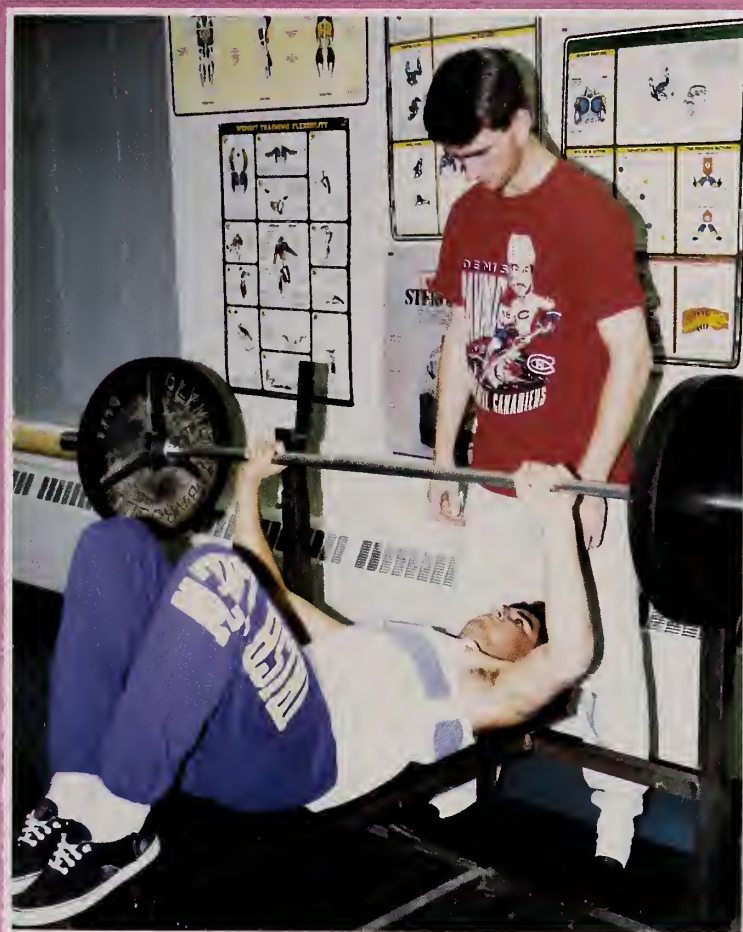

MARCEL ALFRED JAKOB

During the past five years Marcel has experienced an unforgettable VC existence. FM's: FI games, cranking, drowning at Whistler and the Creek (LH) with PS, hippy van, Swainers Yugo, Toronto with DR, surfing CC and the Flying I. Although hoping to create a career as a ski movie star, Marcel is planning to attend UBC to further his education. Marcel thanks Tini, his friends and especially his parents and teachers for all their guidance, support and understanding. He credits TP for adventure skiing inspiration. Remember Grads, life's a mountain and a beach. Stay real.

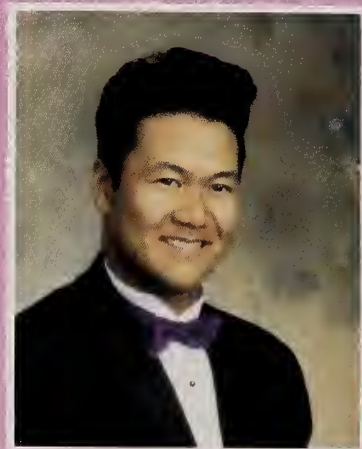

THOMAS STANISLAV STEPHAN KADLEC

Tom's been attending V.C. for 5 memorable years. Although it was hell at first, he's glad he stayed. Tom thanks his teachers for their guidance and all his friends for the good times. A special thanks to his Mom, Dad, brothers and family for their love and support. F.M.'s: shredd'n with the Fly'n I, reality checks with Tilley, dealin with the wench, study parties at Loons, Encounter, Letterman ski trips, Football '91, Kits Volleyball, Penticton, Osoyoos, parties, club med. Grad '92, AP and JB.: "Live your life to the fullest 'cause you only get one chance."

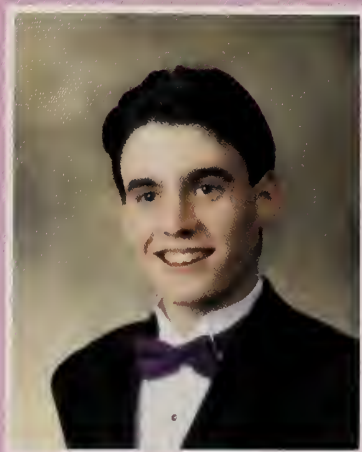

REGINALD H. KAO

Reg has been attending VC since Grade 8 and has been partying ever since. He thanks ESP for the great times, Chilly K., Charles, Japes, Oz, Melvin, James and the rest of the crew. He also thanks the football team, and the coaches for their dedication. FM's were the beach, French 11, Oregon trip, summer school, Nat Bailey, and ghetto football. Good luck to all the grads of '92. "It is wise to save money, but it is wiser to save friendships." Peace y'all!

DERMOT NIAL KERINS

Dermot was best known for his impression of a ghost. After arriving at V.C. in grade 8 from ICS, he faithfully trudged 2 blocks to school everyday. If he was not fighting in the hall with Carlos "The Rocket", Dermot might be found engaged in a vicious game of "Nerd Ball". Dermot was a favourite with teachers by asking them if he could ask them a question (!?). Dermot will never forget all the valuable lessons he has learned, NOT! Dermot's future plans include university somewhere, playing hoop, putting some meat on them bones, and a tan.

GRANT KIM

After descending from heaven, Grant has dominated, exemplified, and enjoyed every dimension of VC. An invaluable, favorite pastime was travelling the entire globe every vacation. Future endeavours include Harvard and the Emperor's life. Grant thanks all his coaches and teachers, especially Mr.'s Rogers, MacCormack, Szetela, Burke, Lattimer, Kim, Giacomazza, and Sensei Trepanier. Eternity to the Brotherhood - Bryan, Chris, Mark, Nial, Simon, and Japes. Sincere special thanks to his loving parents, Patricia, Nicole, Jennifer, Blaire, and other half - Paul. "Heaven is a state of mind, body, heart, spirit, and soul; 'tis not a destination but a peace within."

PAUL HYUNTAE KIM III

Paul has Koreanized Vancouver College for twelve prosperous years. He was a superlative individual whose presence was felt by everyone. PKCIOUS was the sweetest linebacker College has ever witnessed. Paul loves his parents for their undying support, understanding, and wisdom bestowed upon him. Special thanks: Joe Rogers, Bryan, Japes, Christopher Osborne, Nial, Koreans, Nowhere Posse, Les Femmes Patricia, TWIN HYPE GRANT. "Victory at all costs, in spite of all terror, However long and hard it may be. For without victory there is no survival. And I would sooner fail, than not be among the greatest. For greatness is my destiny." PKCIOUS

HERMAN CHRISTOPHER KWAN

"To run away from fears and obstacles in life, is to run away from life itself". Herman has attended VC for the past five years and has since learned the laws of life. Realizing that his education is not yet complete, Herman departs VC willingly and prepares to challenge new obstacles which await him. Special thanks to Daboyz and to his family for their love, guidance and inspiration throughout the years. "God is not willing to do everything, and thus take away our free will and that share of glory which belongs to us." (Niccolo Machiavelli)

KENNY FERDINAND LAM

Empowered by some unknown force, Kenny quickly acclimated himself to the "demanding, sometimes violent, all-male" environment of V.C. after his transition in 1989 from Burnett Junior Secondary. The momentum of this force continued to propel Kenny throughout his 3 years as he participated in all aspects of school life - debating, tennis team, yearbook, the school newspaper, etc. - and devoted time to his studies. Kenny could not have been able to swallow the pressure without THE FORCE and, of course, his friends. Gratitude is expressed to whomever, or whatever, that made his stay at V.C. most memorable.

RICHARD T.C. LAM

Ever since Richard joined the V.C. brotherhood in Grade 7, he has enjoyed every year. He has been involved with the football and basketball teams, track, and Collegian. Richard can usually be found in the equipment room or at the rink scoring goals. FM's: Oregon, Hallow'een, Osoyoos '91, Japan '89 and English 11. Richie thanks his teachers and friends for their friendship and support. He also thanks his parents for enrolling him in the school and for their love and support, his sister and brother-in-law for standing beside him. "Don't mess with the eight ball; it'll get you every time." Good luck grads.

JOHN-PAUL JOSEPH LARKIN

JP thanks his parents for all their love and support, and all the teachers that tolerated him during his twelve year stay at VC. Japes also thanks: LF, SH, NB, JG, JA, CO, CL, AA, SS, OZ, RK, 24K, M-L and of course the Kims for making his life that much better. FM's: Encounter '91, Japan w/Pickle, Ghetto w/the Boyz in the Hood, and the best friends anyone could ever have. "I love you guys and I'll never forget our times at VC. Peace out!"

CHARLES EDWARD LARROZA

Chuckii will cherish his five years at VC. He sends his love to his family, especially his Mom for always being there. A special shout out goes to his 'gold' friends for the great times and for making the difference. Stay gold. Unsure of what his future may hold, Charles will never stop performing; whether he is in front of the camera or dancing for all the flygirlz. Charles will always reach for his dreams. "Dancing is the loftiest, the most moving, the most beautiful of the arts, because it is no mere translation or abstraction from life; it is life itself." C.B.

PETER MARK LAW

Peter came to VC in Grade 7 from Saint Francis Xavier. During his six years, he participated on the track team (brief stint in Grade 10), wrestling team, and the senior tennis team. Other activities included the enriching times in Public Speaking, and the strenuous hours in Yearbook. Special thanks to CL, AL, JT, and MW for all their support. He also thanks his parents for their generous love and shared optimism. Peter hopes to go to university and pursue a career in Commerce. The best of luck to the Grads of '92. Au Revoir!

CONSTANT HIN-BOCK LEUNG

Constant came to V.C. in Grade Six after leaving St. Andrew's Elementary School. His academics have always been balanced with extra-curricular activities, the most enjoyable being tennis, debating and the yearbook. Constant thanks the teachers and staff of V.C. for their years of help and inspiration, the yearbook staff, and his friends for making his school years so memorable. Most importantly, he thanks his family for their endless love, guidance, support and sacrifices, and for being there when he needs them. Constant plans to further his studies at U.B.C., pursue a career in medicine, and serve humanity.

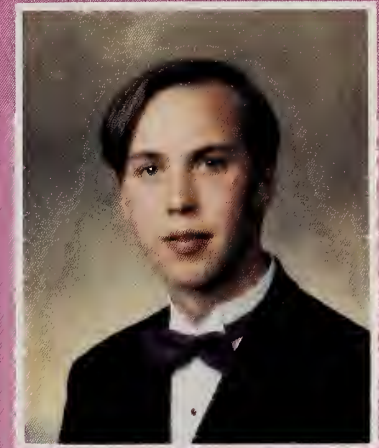

MICHAEL GARY GORDON LEE

Michael came quietly into the halls of Vancouver College in grade seven, where since then he has grown immensely. He finally reached his academic potential while at V.C. and he discovered many things about himself. Vancouver College has played a large role in shaping Michael's future, and when he gets there he doesn't want to forget those who helped him along the way. Thanks to his parents for their love, to his teachers for their support, and P&A (crazy kids). To the guys, we've gone from boys to men together. B.M.E. forever!

DAVID THOMAS LEWIS

Dave has been attending VC from the mountains of North Van for the past five years. Of his many good times since arriving at VC, Dave's favorite memories include: planetarium nights, burning locker . . . ooops! mornings with the Breakfast Club, Mark's bash and Green Machine with DR and RR. Outside school, Dave can usually be found picking up garbage (work detail) or relaxing at the bakery. Dave especially thanks his family and friends. Future plans include enrolling in a prestigious community college. Good luck to the brew crew of '92 and remember "No sense, makes sense."

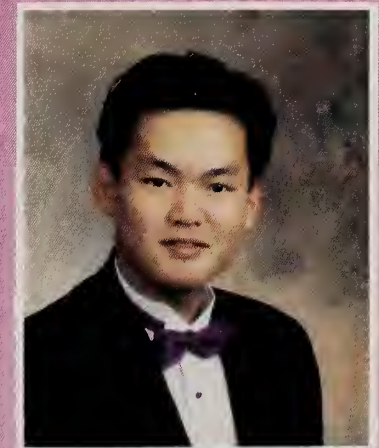

ROBERT CHRISTOPHER LEPSOE

Commuting from Richmond lowlands, Rob found VC oxygen deprived throughout his nine year sojourn. He has been involved in all aspects of school life from the basketball program to debating and his stay has been unforgettable. Memories include Flying U, intramurals, monkees, French 9/11 and the NFL gang. In the future Rob plans to attend UBC engineering and maintain the love of sports he acquired at VC. He would like to thank his family for their never-ending support and the staff for their wise counsel. Good luck to all grads especially long time friends Steve and Paul. "Gentlemen, we're history!"

ALEX K.H. LIM

Even without females, VC is still a great school. Alex thanks his parents, grandma and certain relatives for all their support from his childhood through adolescence. He also thanks Shin Dae-Hee for hanging on. And of course to the OD's - you know who you are, thanks for making life fun. To the Pork n' Cheese and JJ, thanks for growing up with me (some faster than others). And finally, to all the friends and teachers he knows in VC, Thank you . . . Later G's.

ALBERT C.C. LEUNG

Albert came to VC in Grade 8 from St. Francis Xavier. The past 5 years has been a memorable experience. During his stay at VC, Albert has participated in Yearbook, Student Service Ministry and Tennis. Thanx to those special and memorable people for their support and encouragement: Pete (all the rides in Cav.), Constant L., Matt W., Ken L., Tim L., . . . Special thanks to God the Almighty, my loving family and mi amour Joyce, who was always understanding. Albert plans to continue his education at UBC and have a successful career in Engineering. Good luck to the grads of '92. Adios!

BILL LIUTKUS

Bill has been cruisin to VC via the Beast since grade 8. He played football all five years and especially remembers his Varsity season, the Oregon trips and his football buddies. He also enjoyed playing baseball with CR and GB. Bill thanks the whole Richmond Posse for all the memories. FM's: fests at JF, RR, brothers house, the many K fests, the dis at Crescent Beach and the numerous get-togethers. And finally Bill would like to thank his family (especially his Mom and Dad for all their support) and all the grads of '92.

CHRISTOPHER HUGH LIVINGSTONE

Chris, aka Lubbits, a 12 year man at VC says: "Make something of yourself and control your future because life's short." School's been tough and he knows it gets tougher but with the support of his friends, family and Brandy and Fluffy, it's not a problem! Chris thanks his closest friends: Grant, Paul, Simon, Nial, Shelley and Japes for pumping up the years (Keep in touch). He plans to achieve a Masters in Japanese Economics and reside there in the near future. Thanks Mom and Dad, I love you! "See you in success!" (RIP Z28). Build the future!

TIMOTHY LO

Tim joined Vancouver College since Grade 10 and he has enjoyed himself during his stay. He has been active in school life and worked throughout the years. He helped on the yearbook for two years. He would like to thank his teachers and his classmates ("brothers") for their consistent help. He also thanks his family for their support. The three years were an experience he will never forget. All the events he was involved in were worthwhile. If any of his "brothers" needs help, he will always be there.

JUAN MIGUEL R. LOPEZ

Juan Valdez has been wandering the halls of V.C. trying to pick coffee beans for twelve years. Mike has been an avid supporter of the I and ran on Irish cross-country and track teams. FM's include: ninety-Juan, encounter, P-Pit, Beast, T.D.T., Sands, eggs 87, live tunes, Garth, border, hack circles, coffee talk, patio tours, pit crews, and other trips, dips, and slips. Thanks to the guys and gals for hangin' and bein' there. Special thanks go to the Lopez family for their love and support. "The song remains the same, it's the ears that change." J.V. '91

ADAM RODERICK MACDONALD

For five years Adam has been travelling the long hall from Boony-land, two years of which he awoke before sunrise, making his way to rowing practice. Adam spent his spare time playing with the VC Soccer Team, skiing the slopes or on the water. FM's: his summer cabin, Shannon Falls, Bowen, Whistler and la dry parties with la troopers. He thanks Mike, Justin, Geoff, Jason, Dave, Mooch and Amber for being great friends. Special thanx to his parents and Robyn for their love and support. "When fate shuts the door, come in through the window."

DAVID ROBERT MACKENZIE

Dave has lived, loved and been part of V.C. for five years. He will never forget everything it has given him: the best of friends, a lifetime of memories, and an education going beyond the classroom. Dave has been involved in student council, football, track, Lettermen's Association, and many other extra-curricular activities. He thanks Peter, Andrew, Richard, his parents, the football team. Mr. Burke, and his closest friends. F.M.'s: Hallowe'en 90-91, Louse 9, Matusicky 11/12, ski trips, 2adays, Gargoyle, Big-guns, Norm, Mango, Stud parties, Magic 3pBus. Try hard. Thanks for the memories.

MIKE MAHONY

Michael ventured to V.C. in Grade 3 and still doesn't know why he's there. Mikester was a one man wrecking crew at College conquering all aspects of school life from Math Honours to Soccer. Glory days include New Years, Spring Break, Summer 90's, Adam's place, rock'n camaro, Mazda vehicles, skiing with the natural disaster, and Mosh Pit Central. Thanks Mike, Adam, Bryne, Gram, Wiebster, Legend, Daves, Redman, DaBears, the sweet ghetto crew, all the chicks, and the troopers at La dry parties. The future? No clue! Good luck. Hey! now we're laughing cause the best is yet to come!

XAVIER MAK

Xavier came from a small East Vancouver public school and entered Vancouver College commencing with Grade 8. He had his doubts about an "all boys" school at first, but soon found that he had nothing to worry about and has enjoyed his years here. It wasn't easy to achieve good grades, but with the help of the principal, teachers, school-mates, parents and friends, Xavier has managed to do very well. After graduating from the college, Xavier plans to specialize in Engineering. All in all, Xavier's high school years have been the best years of his life.

MICHAEL JAMES MARCHI

"The Fury from Surrey" first thanks his brother Nick for making him a true warrior and his parents for their guidance. (ICE) the man with the plan has infiltrated and devastated VC since Grade 7. He competed in all sports and annoyed teachers with great pleasure. Sweet times: Disneyland with Oz, Xmas with Squeeler, Robson with Kim Bro's/ Taz, Rocky V and Track meets. Thanks to Kevin and family, Steve, Oz, Rya, Italy, the Laser Track Club, Mr. Latimer, Chris, Kims, Johnny, Rowshus, Sean, and the Rhythm (Nalini). Carl Lewis '92. "I am neither God nor man yet something in between."

MARC MAYHEW

For five years now Marc has partook of his quest for knowledge over mountains, through the forests, and over the oceans on his morning journey to VC from North Vancouver, hoping to one day enter the field of radiology. He found true love with Tory and Amber, and also learned the value of true friendship. Many thanks to the four other musketeers, Justin, Chris, Mike, and Taki. Through girlfriends, lunchtime excursions, and the rest, they were always there. Friendships are like feelings, they never change, only the circumstances do. He'll never forget the great memories. Friends forever.

RICHARD MCLELLAN

Rich came to VC in Grade 8. It has been some of the most enjoyable and toughest years of his life. He hopes to pursue a career in aviation and attend SFU. Although only partially active in golf, sports have not been part of his schedule at VC. This he sincerely regrets. But he enjoyed two years of Mud Bowl Football. He wishes his friends and teachers success in the future, and that all the grads have a pleasurable life. "The secret to success is constancy of purpose."

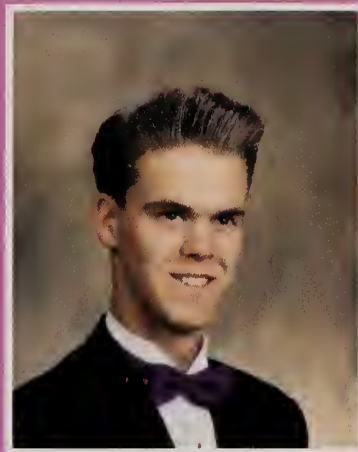

JOHN LAWRENCE MCNAMARA

After twelve years of trekking two blocks to school, John has discovered that walking on sidewalks is much faster and safer than using his old shortcut of climbing over houses. Born in Duesseldorf, "Herr Big Mac" has enjoyed his stay at V.C., making several friends along the way. Thanks to all twelve year men (especially those who suffered under Al Fresco), Franz, Mr. T. and my Japanese class. (Kid in the Hall) A.B. - Ball, and all other special friends. Most of all, Tank would like to thank his parents, brother, and God for all their support, motivation, and inspiration.

STEVE ALAN MEYER

Skip has been at VC for 6 years and horse-back riding in from Cloverdale for 2. Skip enjoyed Mud bowls, hac sessions, his spare, and sweet French classes. To his buds: boom, Marchi, Rich, Ricky, Gummers, Choi, Pao, Luca, Mark, Shmagy, Cecil, Mooch, and the nitro boyz. Thanks to his SDH for the best times, you CM, CC we thank you. Skip intends to go to SFU for business and make quick millions. When not found in a hockey rink he can be found with a car full of his pals striking down pedestrians on Hudson.

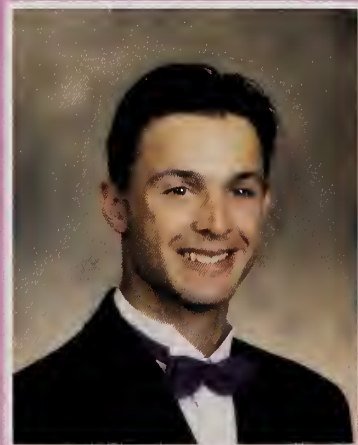

JASON L. MIREAU

Jason has been stalking the halls of VC for five long years. During this time he has become an educated, articulate and civilized humanitarian. Some cherished memories are: Hope '89 with Big Dave, fighting rush hour with Mike and Dave, Consumer Mosh pits, The Animal, Mud Bowl, all the parties, the cabin, the brew crew of spring '92. Jason thanks Adam, Mike, Daves, Justin, Mark, Dick and Los for their friendships. In the future Jason hopes to re-establish a professional hockey franchise in Atlanta.

MICHAEL DEEN MOHAMMED

Michael terrorized the slopes, competed with the best of athletes, and coaches in football and track and had great times with the Lettermen's Association for 5 years. Michael's love for risks brought him to new bounds, different hospitals and many ambulance rides. Rockin' times: Adam's cabin, Whistler, BC Place, Bowen, and La Dry Parties with the troopers. Special thanks Adam, Justin, Mooch, Dave, Vine, Jason, Strench, Emily, Julia, and Shana. You're the best. To his parents thanks for sticking it out. "Do not follow where the path may lead. Go instead where there is no path and leave a trail."

ROGER MORENO

Roger loves you and thanks God for everything. He sends his love to family and friends. He prays for the children and youth gone wild. His 4 years in high school marks the end of an era.

GRAHAM HENRY MORGAN

Arriving in 1980 Graham has been coming to VC for 12 memorable years. Graham while residing in beautiful downtown Marpole has participated in intramurals and has helped keep score at basketball games. In the future he would like to make more than hamburgers, preferably money as well as pursuing a career. Thanks to the peasant wagon drivers for such good service. Graham would like to thank his friends for so many interesting and controversial lunch hours. As well as thanking his teachers for their patience, he thanks his parents for their support. Congratulations grads! - onward we go . . .

PATRICK O'FLAHERTY

Pat arrived at V.C. in Grade 8 from the vast wilderness of North Van. During his five year legacy Pat participated in track and cross-country, and cheered for the Fightin' 'I' F.M.'s: Biker Bashin', in the Canada K, Sweet Biscuits and Lambs in the Dome with DR, partying with RC, MD, Leo and DL, Lime thrashin' with the Irish connection, adventures at Whistler, and driving the warrior. Pat plans to continue his education and hockey career after grad. He extends special thanks to his teachers, coaches and especially his family. Good luck to the grads of '92.

DANIEL MOURE

Throughout Dan's five long years at VC, he has seen an amazing change take place at his home away from home. When Dan was forced to attend VC in Grade 8, he was put into an environment consisting of jocks, nerds, loners, skaters. However, over the years, these separate groups of people have become one large group of friends. That is a change Dan is proud to have been a part of. F.M.'s: the hack crew, the breakfast club, Diego's fingernails and da boyz. Above all, Dan is proud he has survived an all boys Catholic school.

CARLOS GUSTAVO ANTHONY ORMOND

Carlos (a.k.a. "louse") since coming to VC in Grade 7 has been standing tall bragging about and defending his homeland, Argentina. His most memorable moments are playing summerball with JPL while getting chased by LD's, playing ghetto with Dermot, World Cup '91 and losing weight. Future plans are to go to UBC and follow law or commerce, and opening a pasta restaurant with his cousin. Carlos thanks AB, AC, (what a mistake?), RM, and JM for such great fun, heh! and DK "excellent". Long live SPIC's, DM, "Argentina para siempre!"

JOE F. NARDI

"Nardi" has been attending VC since Grade 8. He has participated in many extra-curricular activities: wrestling, soccer, peer tutoring, and volunteer work at St. Vincents. FM's: honor roll 9 & 10, wrestling trips, assemblies, walkathon, and gambling room. Thanx to Mr. Rogers for after school work. Good friends: Dan, Darren, Steve, Marc, Toli, Jamie, Damien, Slasher, the "rockets" Carlos & Justin, and gang at Umbertino's. Inspirational classes: Rel. ed. with Mr. Szetela and consumer ed with super coach Mr. D. Joe aspires to the faculty of sciences at UBC and thanks his parents and VC for preparing him for the challenges ahead.

MARK OSBORNE

The Oz has devastated College for twelve years. He has participated in everything, excelling in football. He will be remembered for his punctuality and borrowing (relax!). Thanks to his pals: Mango, Chris, Leonard, Japes Money, Grant, Paul, Ty, Jim, Pete, Norm, Buns and Nial. Memories include: ghetto football, Lambs, California 90, Duffer, Redman, Whistler, Spring 91, Dennys, Jets, Fraser, Parties and lifting. Future plans are to become a fireman and marry rich. Special thanks to his parents and brother for their support. "You got yourself some PALS, then you got a tribe . . . and there ain't nuttin stronger than that. SWEET!"

RONALD WINSTON NG

WOW! 5 years have passed. Graduation; time to grow up and enjoy life in the real world. Ron thanks the staff of V.C. for making his stay here memorable (academics, school life, athletics). He especially thanks all his friends for the fabulous memories. Special mention goes to the City Project posse, S.J. originalz and BME posse. Future plans: to go to university and meet a lot of new friends. Best of luck to Grad '92. Thanx to God. Peace. Jeff, Ray, we're outta here!

MICHAEL PALETHORPE

Mike stormed VC in Grade 8 and took no prisoners. In his naive days he played football and made the honor roll until Grade 9. In Grade 10 he was reborn on the rowing team and won the Provincial's and a second place at the Jr. Nationals in Grade 11. FM's and thanks include: RIP, Homer, Snackman, Darb, Steveston, the moo posse, the party, Wreck Beach, the mosh pits and the Stanley Park 500. Mike was proud to be part of the Spirit of the I.

MELVIN J. DE CASTRO PALMIANO

For half a decade, Melvin has been attending V.C.. Much was seen and done: football, basketball, dances, and all Dafriends. F.M.'s hangin' out with B.M.E., "SWAINERS?" Oregon '91 - "Ace in the hole and O.P.P.!" Biology 11 and Cruzin' with H.K.. Long live Lethal Weapon IV (unstoppable) and DaPhiladelphia Eagles! A special thankz goes to his parents, grandparents, and sister for their luv and support. Luv eue! Those at J.O. and of course Ma.Ca., till the end of time. And finally to God. Good luck to the Grads of '92! - "It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday."

SILVIO PASQUA

"Sly" (Tibio) has been defying the dress code regulations of VC since Grade 8. At lunch, break, and during the odd class, Silvio could be found participating in hacky-sack sessions with daboyz. On weekends Silvio was usually terrorizing the streets of all lower mainland cities with the Richmond posse. Silvio's fondes memories at VC include B-ball games, la dry fests, the parties, working at Wop Spot, the brotherhood, the courtesy car, certain people falling out of his jeep, study fests at looney's, the window bashers, and going for the drop. Thankz Ma. See ya.

DIEGO ANTONIO FEDERICO PASTRES

During the six years of Diego's stay at V.C., he would either be found snowboarding with the Flyin' I at Mt. Baker or wandering the hallways of the school. Diego will mostly miss the lunchtime posse: La Peen, Steve, Paul, Ricky, Mark and the rest of the bums, including the Club Med gang. Anson - Mt. Baker forever. Dan - water in the hole at Esso; don't forget puddle swimming. "He who laughs last, laughs best!" Well boys, it's been a slice! Later.

RYAN DALE PEREIRA

Ryan has been commuting from North Delta to VC since Grade 4. In his leisure time he participates in skiing, cricket and tennis. He thanks the good teachers who have been patient and helpful. He also thanks his parents and classmates for their encouragement. Ryan's future plans are to attend one of the higher institutes of learning to pursue studies in criminology. Ryan's memories of VC include the trip to Europe, playing football at lunchtime, the flying U Ranch and water sliding at Cultus Lake. Congratulations to all the graduates, and good luck!

FRANCISCUS FREDERICK PEREZ

This is the end and the beginning. Cherish the memories, live today, and look forward to the future. For Francis, the memories of his five years in V.C. will never be forgotten. He thanks all his friends especially daboyz, 2x 2HYPE, and Mel D. for making it so great. He further extends his gratitude to his parents for their love and support. After graduation he plans to attend university then travel around the world. To grads '92, "From here on we go our separate ways but remember we all began from the same point."

MARK A. PUGSLEY

Mark has been hanging out in Club Med. for 10 looong, but enjoyable years. Good times: Callaghan 91, managing the soccer team, Bob Dylan, Chilliwack, Roading for Abstract Irony, Many Floyd shows, Coffee and Alfred with the Richmond Pit Crew. Many thanks to Alex, Byrno, Juan, Dave, Chimo, Jerry Garcia, Dierdre (you make great tea!), Scobby Doo, and most importantly his parents for their love and never ending support. After grad Mark plans to follow the Grateful Dead for the rest of his life. "I'm sittin' in the morning sun, I'll be sitting when the evening comes." (Otis Redding)

CHRIS RANDALL

Chris thanks his parents and the grads of '92 for the everlasting memories, especially the Richmond posse. Chris has been trekking from the beautiful and much envied Richmond for five years, and next year plans to go to and play baseball at an American university on the West coast. Outside of school, Chris could most likely be seen at the ball diamond or thrashing Steve, Mark, Matt or Pat on the ice. Chris wishes good luck to all and hopes that the grads of '92 will never lose touch. Hey Bill, Silvio "RED LIGHT . . . Ahhh!!!"

RICKY DUANE RETEL

The Ricker, or Rico Suave, has attended VC for the past 5 years. He has played on the Varsity Soccer Team for 2 years. His friends at VC could find him skipping classes. Good times include get-togethers, dances, summer '91, New Years, out with the soccer posse. He thanks Mark, Diego, Anson, Paul, Aaron, Luca, Chris, Todd, Mark and all his friends at College, but especially his parents for supporting him through the rough times. "I came, I saw, I left." Later.

JOHN ALLAN ROBERTSON

John has enjoyed five great years at V.C. and will be sad leaving it all behind. F.M.'s: Varsity basketball, Mr. Matusicky's classes, the speech, tribal beating and basketball with Lethal Weapon 3 and team. Special thanks to Jeremy, Ryan, Kelly, Mike and #22 Juan Rivas. Tyler, Kevin, Jim, Jason, James, Ryan, and Carrie - Always friends; thanks for the memories (you are the best!). Final and most important thanks goes out to Mom/ Dad, Kristi, and Jenny (life wouldn't have been the same without you). "To the H.P., F2, Dark Ages Crew: Finish the game . . ."

MICHAEL STUART RICHARDS

Through his six years at Vancouver College Michael has learned many things, but the most important was friendship. Michael believes that you can learn a great deal about a man by the friends he chooses. If you looked at his friends you would see loyalty, courage, wisdom, intelligence, humor, sensitivity and love. Michael would like to thank the best friends anyone could have: T.G., C.A., M.M. and J.H.. His friends have always been there for him and he will always be there for them. Finally, Michael would like to thank the bus people, and all the Grads of 1992.

ALEXANDER O. ROQUE

Alex has spent 12 long years at VC absorbing tunes and learning everything he could. Fond memories: White Spot with the Richmond Crew (every time), Kelowna with Fraser, Summer '91, and Sharing Our Creativity. Special thanks to Mr. Olson, Juan, Pugs and Chimo for being there, Fraser and John for "the way of Alfred", Pete, Geoff, Deirdre, Amber, Kylie, Barb, and everyone else for coffee talk. Eternal thanks to his family for their love and support and to his faithful "Hope". Future plans: UBC if the Band isn't big by then. "My hair may be gone, but my soul will live on."

IAN A.C. RIVAS

Ian spent a magnificent five years at V.C. He is ready to go out into the world and reach new heights in life. FM's: BME Posse, summa' in Cali, B-ball, Japan tour, da fly parties, physics (3am Eternal), Busted at RR, and "90210". PPV's: People who say they'll be by your side but never are. I would like to thank my family, and especially the "Almighty" God. Special Thanx: Tita Ester for being there for me. "Life is precious, so live it right and to the fullest, 'cause you only got one." - M.S.

JOAQUIM RAUL ROSARIO

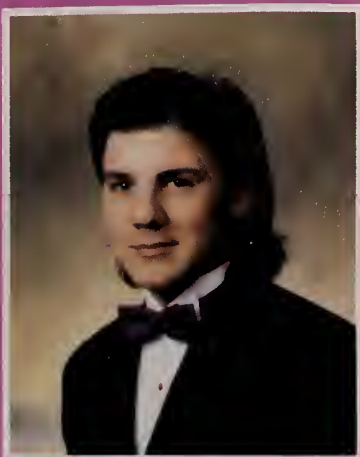

The joker has been going to VC since Grade 8 from Burnaby via the "Rocket". He has contributed three years to the Irish rowing team with many memories - San Diego, Provincials, Saints/ College boat race, barbecue '91, and rowing the "Irish Pride"! Joaquim also participated in the Lettermen's Association. Fond memories include reaching mach 1, going to Splashdown, English 11, Chem 11, Japan '89 and tennis with Jason. Joker thanks his parents for their support and his friends for making his years at VC enjoyable.

PETER MELVAN ROTH

Over the five years Peter has been at VC, he has participated in all aspects of school life, including student council, Lettermen's Association, track, and the fighting Irish football team, the best in the west. All the dances, parties, ski trips, activities and good times almost made it worth coming to an all boys school. He thanks his coaches, teachers, desales, all the special women (SH), and especially his friends for being such a positive influence on him. But most of all, his family for supporting him through the years. To all grads: keep the brotherhood alive.

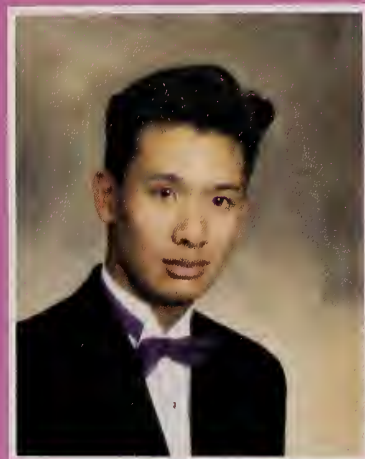

DAN RYZNAR

Dan's been trekking from the Holy Hills of North Van to VC for 5 years. FM's: buzzer wars, fire in DL's locker, cheering for the 'I', the snowfalls, green machine with DL, RR, dances, bakery (sweet biscuits) with PO, DL, Toronto, UBC, with MJ, Lambs in the Agrodome, and parties with RC. Dan can be found cheering for the 'I', helping in student council matters and enjoying life. Dan thanks loyal members of the BC, all the staff for putting up with him, his family, and all his friends. "Let's just say I was testing the bounds of reality." JM

JASON SILVA

"The direction in which education starts a man, will determine his future life." - (Plato). Jason has been led into the direction of Vancouver College for five difficult years, and in this period he has acquired the knowledge necessary to move on to a new beginning. He departs V.C. with a sense of pride and joy, looking back at his many accomplishments and fond memories that will always remain within him. He acknowledges the support and guidance of his dad, mom, brother and above all God. A special thanx goes out to the posse. "Mga kababayan - Hangang sa pagkikitang muli!"

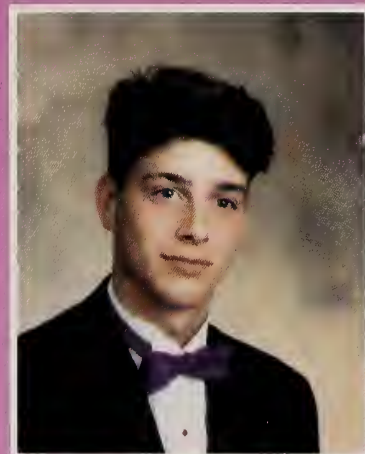

DANIEL GREGORIO SARDINHA

Dan came to Vancouver College in grade seven. During his time here, he has learnt a great deal about real life balanced with school, social, religious, and personal commitments. He would like to thank his parents, teachers and friends for making his stay enjoyable. Dan hopes to attend U.B.C. next year and pursue a career in medicine. GOOD LUCK GRADS!

COURTNEY JAMES FERGUSON-SMITH

Courtney has been at VC for 5 years trying to excell in academics and athletics, but he always bit off more than he could chew. FM's: Hawaii, sandybeach, mosh-pit, Club Med, the pool. YH pre-grad, Bio, Cultus, Mike's bash, Seattle, the tunnel, 6 a.m., Encounter, Reliant K, the bench (go Irish!), windows and pepsi. Courtney thanks the Richmond guys, Tilley (EM), Otis, Farkas, Oz, Mango, and Erica. A very special thanks to my patient and supportive parents and sister. I love you. "Weariness can snore upon the flint when resty sloth finds the down pillow hard." (Shakespeare)

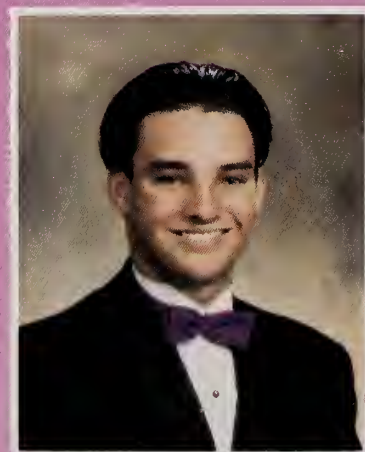

TYLER JAY SHARUN

Jay entered VC in Grade 8 with his Dad's tie and a deck of cards and never looked back. He will cherish always the many fond memories he has gained, i.e., fan buses galore, dances, Hawaii!!! He'd like to thank Mom, Dad, AC, TA, MB, MG, DH, SC, the green machine, those who have sponsored him in the walkathon, and everyone he has ever talked to or met during the course of his life. His dreams are to own his own business, to hitchhike to Vegas, and to backstop the Edmonton Oilers to '99 Cup. I'm history . . .

GEOFF STRENCH

Ode to grad: When grad bell rings he feels deep in his heart that this is time the real party starts. So off he went and began to brew and travel he did in the Beat Van too. Flipping his jeep got him caught in red tape, not forgetting Angel at the hip and her baby at Grapes. With a hand of thanks to all of his friends, he'll never forget the good times with them. "Long you live, high you fly, smiles you give, and tears you cry, all you touch, and all you see is all your life will ever be. (Pink)

KELLY ANDREW SIAH

"Super" has been attending V.C. for 5 years. In these years he has gained many friendships. F.M.'s: running a part-time sportscard business with Ian, playing cards, going to the PNE with Darren, getting NHL autographs with Coles and Irving, entering hockey pools with John, Physics 11 with Albert Leung, English 11 with James, John and his speech, bowling at Top Gun, Homeroom 9-3 and especially Mayfair '91 (not). He thanks Ian, Darren, John, Gentile, James and Jamie for making these years so memorable. Good luck to the Vancouver Canucks in the years to come.

SHELDON C.B. SUEN

This twelve year man would like to thank his parents for controlling their brat, and BME (Elliot, Ian, Michael, Raymund, Jeff, Francis, Charles), J. Bautista. He'd like to thank CMB boyz (Bien, XLaw, Wong, Wafi), Japes and Tilley, friends forever, Garry, his big bro and his sisters Jocel, Sheila, Elaine; Uniqueness thanks you for the inspiration, C Ya in da promised land. To this friends, he luvs ya! "Reach for the future, not the past; the future is who you are, not who you were." To all the teachers: "I'll be back!"

MARK SUTRIN

Mark entered V.C. in Grade 9. During his four year stay, he has noticed a change of life. Friendship. This is one big aspect that made him stay in a school full of well-educated young men. The event that Mark enjoyed was socializing with friends. There have been many fond memories with the Posse. All the parties, get togethers, fireworks, Fighting I B-ball and football games, Brick events, and outings at the beaches, especially Gilbert. If not pursuing a career in hockey, Mark plans to be involved in business at the Brick. Good luck Grads of '92.

SEAN PATRICK TILLEY

In Sean's two years at VC he learned to hate the bus. F.M's: basketball, Hawaii, Agrodome (secret admirer), Club Med, Encounter, grad parties, latenight Denny's, payphones, fourth anniversary, Maeba's party, kitchen antics, movieless Tuesdays, Primo's car and meeting Bem. He thanks Tommy, Craig, Mica, Pao, Snackman, Anson, Jim, Cecil, Oz, Mango, Gerald, Shel, VC Flips, Hershey (Wooh!), Helen, Benn (my friends forever), everybody from east van, and all who feel they deserve thanks. To Arnette: I'll never forget you. Special thanks God, my parents and Michael. F.P.: University and make money. Peace. "I've got the conch." (Piggy)

CRAIG WILLIAM SWAIN

Craig came to VC in grade 8 and cherishes the moment when he won the award for most improved student in grade 9. He thanks: Jimmy, Beakman, The Flip Crew, Tilley, Joey, Marcel, Jim Lewis 4ever: Marchi and Charlie Brown for making school sweet. FM's: snowboarding with "Barney", dances, parties, driving the Yugo and b'ball with Jimmy, Beakman, Ray, Jeff and Mel: Thanks for the swainers Mel! He also thanks all teachers and Lattimer for their help. Good luck to Grads '92 and Peace to the Whiteman Posse. Johnson 4ever baby! "Lay back and enjoy the ride" (C.M.B)

JAYSON MATTHEW TO

This funky homeboy came to VC since Grade 8 and has many memories to take with him. First, he thanks the mighty G.O.D., his parents, all members of ACP posse, Shel, Joker, Churchill and RMD posse. FM's: DT twice a month, trips to Aberdeen, in the Acura, deejay (ghetto) at HP and the B.O.O.M. in summer. Future plans are to study commerce in SFU and own a hi-rise in D.T.A.C.P. in the place to be. Peace y'all.

BRIAN DOUGLAS SWEENEY

Brian has been at Vancouver College since Grade 8. He played on the Irish Soccer team for 2 years, and ran Cross Country with Mike and Pat for 3. Some memories include Victoria, hacking at Club Med., and the Breakfast Club. Brian thanks everyone who made his stay worthwhile. After graduation Brian hopes to become a postal carrier or a welder. "This party's over, I'm going home."

LUONG TRAN

Luong has found his four year stay at VC filled with heart-felt memories. He thanks all his teachers and friends. Special thanks to Mom and Dad for their loving support, Mr. Dalmonte and Mr. Lattimer for their guidance Pedro, Sly, Lam Chop, Tom: "Just one more question?", Slobber, Moh, Sumoan, and P.S. who had immeasurable influence on his life. FM's: Edmonton '88, San Diego '89, study parties, V-ball at Kits Beach, bus rides. "Life is what you make of it, nothing more nothing less."

TYLER W. THOMPSON

Tyler's six year visit to VC has been an enjoyable one. In the past years he has participated in all sports of school life. FM's: BOTH domes, Oregon, 2adays, Edmonton, Hawaii, and Las Vegas, the Encounter, Chem 11, New Years and of course rollin' in the J. Tyler thanks his Mom and Dad and especially Tera for their love and support. Thanks also to Mr. Corbett and Mr. Dalmonte, Bryan, Greg, LJ, Johnny, Money, Oz, and to all those not mentioned. "No bird soars too high, if he soars with his own wings."

ANSON MICHAEL TRITES

Anson has endured V.C. for three years and it honestly wasn't so bad. He will always remember the ghetto games, boarding at Baker with the Flyin' 1, and hanging out with the boyz at Club Med. Anson thanks Snack, Skip, Luca, Rick, Maok, Pao, Smegs, Mike, Mark G, Tom and Sweets for making this year the best ever! Diego, Mt. Baker forever. Anson thanks his family for their support and Kym for always being there. Good luck Grad '92! Later.

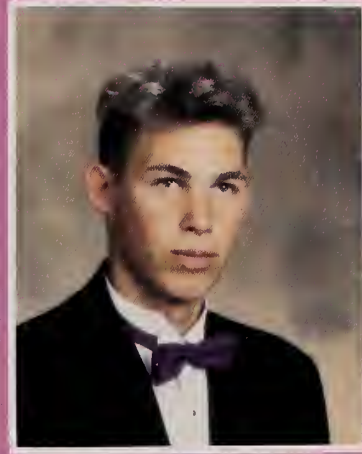

DAVID ALBERT VAN PYKSTRA

David has attended VC for about 2160 daze; twelve years of his life, making the long haul from Tsawwassen. He plans to attend university in order to grow as an individual. David would like to give a special thanks to the people that gave him that extra push to succeed in whatever he did. Special thanks to his Mom and Dad as well as his brothers Aaron and Mark. Thanks to Mohammed, McGrogan, MacDonald, D'Arcy, Mireau, Byrne and the rest of the troopers. "Everything should be made as simple as possible but not simpler." (Einstein)

PAUL ANDREW WILLISCROFT

Pao has been at VC since Grade 4 and the first day he got there he knew it would be the place for him. Although he excelled in basketball he lacked academic honor roll only by a little every term. FM's: Granville St. adventures in the Canada K, Agrodome, Hawaii, Las Vegas, grad parties and Whistler, all with Raggi - love ya man! He would like to thank Byron, Shmeg, Owl, D-D-Diego, Snack, Brind, Steve, Maok, Rick, and the rest of his buds (you too mot). He also thanks Mom and Dad and Bob for their support and understanding.

BENNY WANG

Ben immigrated to Canada in August '91 and feels very proud to be a part of Vancouver College for his first and last year of high school in Canada. He sincerely thanks his teachers for their patience and courtesy while helping him through the early stages of learning English. Ben will miss many things about VC, especially his teachers and friends. Good luck fellow-grads.

TODD ERNEST ZICKLER

Todd will never forget the five years he spent at Vancouver College. Memories include: Triple Duff, The Beast, poems in Math, Pender with CF, DC JS, Twin Cheeks, Bellish with BS and BL: "Hey Bill, maybe if you use your foot . . .", Mud Bowls, Breeders, Whistler with DC, JM, JL, SW. He gives thanks to his classmates for making this the sweetest grad class ever and to the BSP for making his stay here tolerable. As for his parents, he wants them to know that he couldn't have done it without them. See y'around.

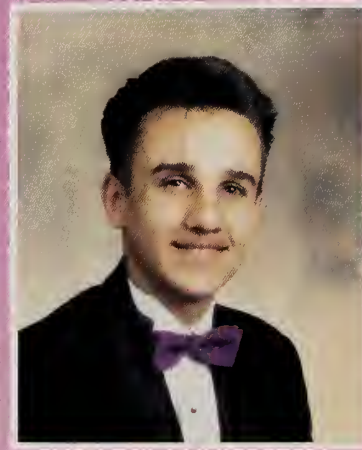

CHRISTOPHER JOHNATHAN WIEBE

Chris has been truckin to V.C. for the past four years. During his stay Chris has excelled in all aspects of school life from football to the mosh pit at Dances. Favorite Memories: The Night Tour of Whistler with Strench, Ghetto Ball with Mahoney and the road warriors. Partying at Spring Break with Momo, Adam, Oz, Mango, and the rest of the brew crew, never forget Brown, Tan, or my best bud Graeme. Special Thanx to Mom, Dad and Andrew for being there. Future plans include attending Langara or Harvard and going in search of The Grateful Dead with Paul.

RAFFY JACOB ZYDOWICZ

Raffy would like to thank everybody for making his two years at VC memorable. Special thanx to all his friends and Batman. Tom K, "Jeszcze Polska nie zginela." BC, no hard feelings, eh? "Life's a dream until you wake up; enjoy it before it's over" and AA always remember what they say about the man. "I shall be telling this with a sigh somewhere ages and ages hence: two roads diverged in a wood and I - I took the one less travelled by And it has made all the difference." (Robert Frost)

DODDY P. WIJANTA

Doddy's five long years have come to an end. He thanks God, parents (love you both), and "friends". Special thanks to Joyce W. and Mike So. Mistakes have been made, both small and big ones. Mistakes are costly, but they are a part of growing up. Better now than later. Just be sure to get back up and keep moving forward. Good-bye to all and may good fortune smile upon you.

My Dear Friends:

There are times, doubtless, in all lives, when the past assumes a larger figure than it ever assumed before. In modern times when we move so fast that there would not seem to be any present time, this looming up of the past tends to be a great influence for our encouragement, our guidance, or our rebuke.

For us senior students, the past looms up indeed when the clock clicks the last hour which measures the periods of our education, under the protecting arms of the College. Entering upon our studies at the whirling years of adolescence we have grown day by day to have a larger vision, to have a more serious grasp on life and a more tenacious hold on those principles which centuries of sound Christian education have proven to be necessary for all who would make their lives worthy of the soul within.

We began a few years back as timid boys - we go out today young men knowing what is worthy in life, ambitious of achievement for God and our country but above all resolved to keep alive within us the memory of a school wherein the greatest possible asset is the recollection of men whose lives are one long series of unselfish sacrifices on behalf of their pupils. The memory of their dedication must, as years go by, tend to form in us, their pupils, the finest type of citizenship, for where citizenship is real and worth while the individual must be as faithful to his duty and as true in his loyalty to the best interests of his fellow men.

The College opened in Vancouver just six years ago this coming September. Its material growth and its popularity among the general public are but slight tokens of the influence it is building up in the hearts of all its graduates and pupils. Now, that we come to sever our connection with the College we feel that the beacon lights of faith in God, of earnestness in well-doing, of loyalty to what is right, which our teachers have set aglow in our hearts will never cease to burn. Our noblest ambition, as the years go by will be to demonstrate in our lives the love with which those beacon lights are tended. Thrice happy is he who is so wisely trained that he comes to believe sincerely what his soul does believe, to say what only a choice spirit should think, to feel what a true and tender lover of great things of life should feel, and whose express volitions square with the profounder drift of his will. For such a one there will be no illusions and for him at least the art of living has been acquired which art consists in being able to direct the circumstances of life no matter how mean to the highest ends and to reap from the poorest of opportunities the richest harvest of well being.

In this way all graduates of the College are thrice happy for their training for life has been well given and loyally and gladly accepted. We go into the world with the College motto, "Semper Fidelis" - "always faithful" in our hearts. Though it pains us to draw the curtain down upon this lovely period of our lives, we do so as those who are prepared for fine issues and the work begun is not finished tonight but shall go on successfully; it is our hope, till the final summons comes, when we shall be carrying with the added radiance of use the gifts we have here received.

In departing we offer to the College our tenderest farewells and pray for its every success whilst to its patrons and our friends we stand committed to the promise to further by every means in our power the best interests of all that tends to the glory of God, the good of the State, and service of mankind.

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times . . ." (Charles Dickens)

For the past six years Vancouver College has been my home. One third of my life has been spent living inside the hallowed walls of this institution, an institution that first began educating boys seventy years ago. Vancouver College is more than just a school; it is a way of life.

When I walk through the hallways early in the morning when nobody is around, I can hear the echoes of the past seventy years. Listening carefully, I can hear the dreams, the desires and the hopes of young men who once rushed through these hallways on their way to classes. When I look at the photo memories on the wall I feel time passing by, time that has led those boys on into their lives and deaths, time that now leads us on. With mortality tugging at my sleeve I have no choice but to look to the future.

Very soon we will leave behind the shelter this establishment provides, and we will be drawn into the "real world". This great institution will become a memory, and the knowledge and skills it has gifted us with will become our shield against misery as we face a cold and often cruel world. As we travel into our years a part of us will always remain at Vancouver College, a legacy for those who will follow. We will always remember the pain and the healing, the loss of innocence and the gain of knowledge, the failed relationships and the love, the loneliness and the friendships we experienced here. We will always remember our days here, and how it felt to be a living part of this great tradition. While this chapter of our life draws to a close another entire book opens before us.

It is both unbearably sad and immensely exciting, this feeling of liberation as adulthood settles upon our shoulders. We do not leave Vancouver College behind us, so much as we take it into the world with us. We leave this institution to create the future as we desire it should be. We are given one final gift when into our hands is passed the world with all its problems and all its treasures for us to solve and to discover. As we continue to grow and learn in life, we will never forget the time spent at a place we called "home": Vancouver College.

History of Vancouver College

Tuesday, September 5, 1922, marked the opening of Vancouver College, in the red-brick building on Richards Street, known as Rosary Hall, with a student enrollment of 91 students. The founding community of Brothers Lannon, Keane, Reid, and Murtagh was housed in a rented residence at 112 Broughton Street. Herein was germinated a legacy, of high educational and athletic ideals, that were the ear-marks of the fledgling foundation: the vision of men with a mission.

The great Canadian poet, Charles Roberts, speaking to his own generation, aptly advised: "Let your past convince your future." In our recounting and recalling of the successful highlights, that have constituted Vancouver College's 70 years history: its 25th, 50th, and 60th Jubilee Milestones, let us always keep firmly in mind, the realities of the early years of College, that provided the inspirational nexus for future generations of Brothers, lay teachers and students.

A thoughtful reading of the chronicling of events by the Founding Principal, Brother Lannon, provides intriguing insights into the hopes and fears, successes and failures, the steadfast determination to do great things, even in the face of daunting financial problems: the monumental task of incorporating and embodying into action, the ideals set forth in the school's and the Congregation's Mottoes: "Semper Fidelis - Always Faithful" and "Facere et Docere - To Do and To Teach."

The chronicling of events leading up to the acquisition of 10 acres of land on the crest of Shaughnessy Heights, the determined realization of a permanent "Private School" and Brothers' Residence by September, 1925, help us to understand the vibrancy of an established tradition, that has motivated administrations over the intervening years to move forward with confidence and pride: the translation of that dedication of the past, into a 'vision for the future'

Epilogue: Firm Foundations:

The first V.C. Annual (Yearbook) for the school year 1927-1928, offers a wonderfully concise and composite picture of just how well the Founding Brothers provided an agenda for the future.

College enrollment stood at 250 students, which included 54 resident students and staff of 8 Brothers. A full high school Course of Studies, which complied with Department of Education standards: Senior and Junior Matriculation, was followed. Grammar School, Grades 3-8, met the required College Examinations' system for grade level promotion and high school entrance. Successful achievements and scholarship success tell their own story.

The V.C. Review was published monthly by the students and the first V.C. Annual (Yearbook): 1927-1928 was published, just five short years after the opening of the College.

The annual entertainment featured dance, gymnastic numbers, and as the Vancouver Sun noted: "The boys of College surprised a capacity audience with a remarkably clever interpretation of the ever-popular play: 'The Tailor-Made Man.'"

The closing exercises programme revealed remarkable achievements: Oratorical Honors in the Greater Vancouver District Finals, Debating and Public Speaking successes in public competition.

The illustrated annual featured an impressive College orchestra of some 35 members.

Sports' activities that same year included: Bantam Rugby (Champions of Greater Vancouver); Junior Rugby (Champions of Greater Vancouver); Intra-mural Leagues, Soccer tournaments, Basketball, Gymnastic classes, Senior and Junior Baseball and an enthusiastic Tennis group of 30 students.

Such was the heritage left us, an awesome achievement, when we consider the relatively limited enrollment, the financial straits and 'newness' of the young Foundation.

The Tradition and Mystique: Accepting the Challenge:

Such undertakings are never the single-handed efforts of a handful of men, however dedicated they might be. The efforts of Very Rev. Dr. O'Boyle, O.M.I., Rector of the Cathedral, on behalf of Archbishop Casey of Vancouver, and the concurrence of the Superior General of the Christian Brothers: Br. Hennessey, made the establishment of a school, first mooted in 1906, the reality of 1922.

Hardly had the first graduates of College left its portals when Br. Lannon was busy organizing an Alumni Association, to help implement plans to ensure the future well-being of College. The first President was James O'Hagan and the splendid O'Hagan Field pays tribute to his name and his abiding interest in College.

Throughout the 70 years of its history, dedicated men and women have worked tirelessly and successfully, accepting the demanding responsibilities of chair-persons and members of organizational units formed to further the objectives and aspirations of the 14 Brothers who administered the affairs of College.

Boards of Directors, Mothers' Associations, Alumni Associations, Auction-Dinner-Dance Committees, Parents' Associations, Foundation Organizations, are but some of the many efforts that have made the Vancouver College Complex of the '90's, the envy and admiration of the citizens of Vancouver.

Generous benefactors have left lasting monuments in the form of generous grants, bequests, and building units: McCormack Hall, Mackin Hall, Nichol Hall, O'Hagan Memorial Field.

A zealous band of lay teachers has worked closely with the Brothers over the years and some in continuity over a 25 year period.

Successive administrators have made unique contributions in upgrading existing facilities and in establishing new additions: Brother E.B. Walsh 1939-1945 organized our Mothers' Auxiliary, founded a Students' Council, introduced American Football, asphalted the Tennis Courts and organized the First Cadet Corps at V.C. Brother D. Cunningham 1945-1948 established the Silver Jubilee Drive Fund for a gymnasium facility. Brother W.C. Penny, 1948-1954 established Commencement Exercises at College and brought the dream of a new gymnasium to fruition.

Brother J.C. Bates 1954-1960, 1975-1977: sought and achieved accreditation for College, presided over the building of Mackin Hall and made extensive upgrading improvements to College's playing field. Brother F.R. Finch, 1960-1966 saw Nichol Hall built, the installation of new athletic facilities (lockers, shower units) above the Gymnasium and the building of new science Chemistry and Physics Labs. It was also during Br. Finch's tenure that the elimination of classes at Cartier Hall took place and the provision of a study hall for boarders was realized.

Brother Bucher, 1968-1975, made extensive renovations and upgrades to the Boarders' Facilities, established a comprehensive Resource Center for College, and a new Teachers' Faculty Room on the second floor of the school. Student Class Retreats received a considerable new impetus under Br. Bucher and the increase in interest by Grade XII level students, indicated a successful approach to modern youth and their problems. A meeting with parents by the principal, set the stage for a revamping of the Grammar School, both as regards the teaching approach and the physical changes needed to back it up. A volunteer Teachers' Aid Corps was also made operational.

Br. M.A. Maher, 1977-1983, devoted his considerable energies in successfully realizing the first phase of a building program, designed to renew, renovate or rebuild certain structural facilities on the campus. The first phase - completed August 24, 1981, was a badly needed New Residence for the Brothers. It replaced the old St. Michael's Hall Residence. Parking lot facilities for the Residence and School were paved, general grounds' pavement and curbing, plus flower-beds' restoration, served to enhance the environment of College. The massive upgrading of O'Hagan Field and the bunker addition fell within the orbit of Br. Michael Maher.

The brief stewardship of Brother John F. McHugh, 1985-1987, saw the revitalization of a strong Board of Directors, which was to play such a vital and integral part in the planned reorganization of the physical structure of College, at that time surfeited with 'Temporary Buildings.' The readjustments of administrative responsibilities was also undertaken with several Assistant Vice-Principals being established at the High School level. It was under Br. John McHugh's regime that the concept of a Middle School was proposed and initiated.

Brother Joseph Farrell was appointed Principal of Vancouver College in 1987 and his tenure of office coincides with the 70th Anniversary of the school.

Brother has directed his energies towards the multi-faceted aspects that make Vancouver College the vibrant 'School Community' that it is today. As the College enters another milestone in its long history, Brother Joseph Farrell has striven to achieve a closer than ever collaboration between the Christian Brothers and the Laity.

Indigenous to this relationship, is the dynamic Board of Directors, which through its Planning and Development Committee, brought to fruition the New Wing, which was blessed and officially opened on Tuesday, September 25, 1990.

The New Building:

The new building houses 9 new classrooms and other specialty areas. It embraces 32,000 square feet of new facilities: Middle/ High School Computer Lab areas; new state of the art, Art rooms; new locker and shower rooms; an assembly room and physical education rooms. It also includes weight room, extensive storage rooms and permanent Job Entry facilities. Foyers, display areas, new general classrooms, access for the handicapped, and new furnace and electrical utilities, round out the salient features of the new wing.

Implications:

The implications for the College Campus in general were profound. A central plaza was created, the Alumni Gym renovated and expansion into the ground floor of Nichol Hall, was made possible for the Primary Division. Most portables were removed from the campus, the old storage shed was demolished and office space was expanded and improved. Furthermore, student lockers and overcrowding in established buildings were reduced, a new Foundation and Alumni Office were created. Yearbook facilities moved to former locker room areas, student activity offices were provided and the Band room was considerably extended.

Activity in High Gear:

A truly dynamic and successfully active Parents' Association has achieved phenomenal results in achieving greatly increased fund raising. It has also made an important impact on the social dimension of the 'School Community' and to general morale building.

The restructuring of the Vancouver College Foundation has been an important goal of Brother Joseph Farrell and the creation of the Office of Director of Development has been firmly established. The "Commitment To the Future - Capital Campaign" project argues well for the future of College.

Financial Stability and Responsibility:

Under the administration of Brother Joseph Farrell, an era of financial stability has come to Vancouver College. The administration is now providing remunerative packages to staff members, comparable to the best in the province.

As preparations proceed, to highlight and pay tribute to the mosaic of events and people, who made us what we are, we can look back with confidence and pride, in the knowledge that the 'Vision of 1922' was ever honoured, nurtured and expanded.

With conviction we can look forward to the future, in the realization that our efforts of the '90's will provide inspiration for those who follow us into yet another new age, with all its demands and challenges.

MR. JOHN KAVALEC

Twenty-five years ago, Mr. John Kavalec, a native of Flin Flon, Manitoba, joined the College staff for the first time. In his quarter century at V.C., John has been science teacher specializing in biology, Basketball Coach, Vice-Principal, Director of Guidance, Dean of Discipline, and Acting Principal. In his first years at College the lay teachers were a minority, the majority of the staff being Christian Brothers. Generations of students remember how demanding a science and biology teacher John was. In 1972 he became the first lay teacher to become Vice-Principal of Vancouver College, a position he retained until 1985. Among his duties as Vice-Principal was getting substitutes for absent teachers and acting as Dean of Discipline. It is in this latter role that many former students fondly remember him, for he had a unique way of dealing with students in trouble. Fortunately, his bark was largely greater than his bite. In recent years, John has gone full circle and is once again full-time science and biology teacher. If one thing can be said to sum up John Kavalec, it is that he is loyal, honest and true to Vancouver College. Thank you, Mr. Kavalec, for your outstanding service to Vancouver College. It is with gratitude that we dedicate Collegian '92 to you.

Collegian Dedication

BROTHER PATRICK KEANE

Brother John Patrick Keane (now living in Mono Mills, Ontario) is the only surviving member of the first community of Christian Brothers who came to Vancouver in 1922 to open a high school for boys. Although he was only at College for a few years in the early twenties, Brother Patrick (as he is known among the Brothers) endeared himself to the "Richards Street Gang". V.C. began in Rosary Hall, south of Holy Rosary Cathedral on Richards Street. On leaving College, Brother Keane spent the next thirty-five years at St. Bonaventure's College in St. John's, Newfoundland. With the opening of Brother Rice High School in 1961, Brother Keane was transferred there. When he retired from teaching in 1968, he moved to Mono Mills where he served as Secretary of the Provincial Council and Archivist for the Canadian Province of Christian Brothers. It is with love and gratitude that we dedicate Collegian '92 to him, and through him to all the Brothers who have served at Vancouver College.

Mrs. Gloria Kim

MRS. GLORIA KIM

A native of Trinidad, Mrs. Gloria Kim joined the Vancouver College staff in 1966. During all her time at College, Mrs. Kim taught Grade Four, bringing the wealth of her experience to the service of Catholic youth. Not one to stand on ceremony, Gloria has gone about her business, seeming completely unruffled under the daily pressures of the classroom and playing field. The young men in her classroom have the advantage of having a real "Master Teacher" to teach them the basics both in academic subjects and in life. In her twenty-six years at V.C. she has been a shining example of a mother and a lady. Thank you, Mrs. Kim, for what you have given so generously, and continue to give to the boys of Vancouver College. It is our privilege to dedicate Collegian '92 to you.

Mr. Michael Kim

MR. MICHAEL KIM

In 1967 Mr. Michael Kim followed his wife Gloria to Vancouver College. For most of his years at College Mr. Kim has been Director of our Elementary School. Under his direction the Elementary School became quite progressive in its teaching methods, yet quite conservative in its religious values and approaches to life. Over his twenty-five years Mr. Kim has been known for his respect for others, be they teachers or students. Following the restructuring of the schools' administration in 1988, Michael returned to full time classroom teaching. He presently teaches Grades Seven and Eight in the Middle School. Thank you, Mr. Kim, for your dedicated service and love of Vancouver College. It is our pleasure to dedicate Collegian '92 to you.

1930 - GRADE 11

Grade 11

Nighttime is closing in on daylight, surrounding it like a web as autumn gradually turns to winter. With the seasonal change comes a coldness and heaviness which we know will not last forever. Beyond the harshness of winter is the freshness of spring and the relaxation of summer. It is this knowledge of change which motivates people through fall and winter and into spring, and best relates to the concept of Grade 11.

Crowded by a variety of pressures, Grade 11 students must successfully balance their school workload, their social life, their extra-curricular commitments, and their leisure time. These pressures increase as quickly as the days pass; and for some, it all seems endless and worthless. The temptation to procrastinate is ever present; but those who believe there are rewards for their hard work are impelled by that belief.

Grade 11 is a most crucial year. It sets a basis for Grade 12 and reflects in which direction one's future is headed. All decisions made, have to be carefully thought over; any mistake can be a major one and could cause regret later in life.

We are all forced to mature. For those who are ready, there will be success in whatever they choose. For those who are not ready to face the challenges of Grade 11, there will be other chances, but none as promising as the year before them.

We are told by those older than we that hard work now will pay off later. For the students who are driven by this, the relaxing summer is getting closer; the dark and grim days will soon wear off, and a bright tomorrow is in sight.

Grade 10

Bricks. The word flashed through my mind and spilled out of my mouth as I stood before a new school in September '89, ready to become one of 90 Eighth Graders primed to accept the challenges that lay within. As my eyes exhaustively studied the structure that looked down upon me, I could only think that this was no ordinary concrete school with bright orange doors and muted yellow walls. Somehow, those brick walls gave it depth. But it wasn't until this year that I realized the significance of that first impression.

That first year was an awkward stage. I, like most of my fellow students had much adapting to do in assuming the scholastic format that was the result of decades of curricular evolution. We formed new bonds with new people, while letting other bonds die or fade. It was a test of maturity set before us all. Grade Nine held lesser challenges socially, but the academic focus was expanded, and not as nebulous as it had been in Grade Eight. The bonds grew stronger, and the roles we played within the school became more detailed and defined.

Enter Grade Ten. Departure from Middle School has put us all in a new light. Less group-work and more focus on the individual. Fewer second chances and more immersion into that unforgiving real world. Unseen pressures mount and maturity is expected. Physical, emotional, and spiritual growth occurs within at breakneck speed; faltering and outright failure is not uncommon. Experience is the tool by which we learn our most important lessons.

Grade Ten at Vancouver College has fewer enigmas than the previous two grades, but there is a frightening equivalent. The equivalent is direction, the choosing of channels to flow our energies. Choosing a direction is establishing an identity and setting aim for a position in society. It is seeking out doors to open and pursuing opportunities to tackle.

Why make such decisions so early in life, some may wonder. The truth is that Grade Ten does not demand that of us. Most of the life-affecting decisions that we will make will be made later in life. Grade 10 is a bridge between dependence and independence, and on that bridge we learn how to make decisions and take actions that shape our individual destinies.

I begin to realize that choices, like forks in the road, exist along every path. I have to ask myself which paths will result in dead-ends? Which will result in obstacles or tollbooths? Which will return me to the beginning? Grade Ten is the beginning of an exploration of these paths that will continue into my twenties. The development of skills and interests will match some of us with our vocations immediately, while others will search for aptitudes that will lead them on their journeys.

We are a community of friends with diverse backgrounds, but we share in a distinct Vancouver College culture. It is a community that extends past school hours in sports and extra-curricular activities, and even beyond the campus with our alumni. It is something of immense value, a tradition of excellence. Our self-discovery is made far easier by the second family that we each have at this school.

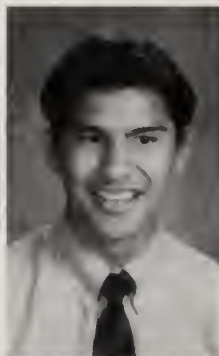

At the end of the first day of Grade Ten, I looked upon the structure that would become my second home for a third year. My mind is not cluttered with anxiety like it had been two years ago when I first laid eyes on Vancouver College. I have grown as an individual, and things obscure and ignored are now clear and filled with meaning. As I looked upon the walls, my first impression of V.C. was interpreted. I see the faces of seventy years of students, whose destinies were shaped by a school that leads its students on the right paths, generations of students with a common union. I see myself and classmates in that wall, our contribution vital to its form. It is a school growing with each new student. It is a school being built with the bricks of our promise.

Grade 9

There are so many different aspects to being at the head of the Middle School community of Vancouver College. We are given many more responsibilities as we journey to maturity and make the jump between Middle School and High School. To be a Grade 9 student at Vancouver College one is expected to show qualities of leadership, and is encouraged to participate in after-school activities. All these qualities should be visible in the growing young scholars in Grade 9.

Each year as students grow more mature, we are given more responsibilities and it is expected that we can accept the trust placed in us. We are given more homework which must be completed on time and done to the best of our abilities. We are responsible to remind ourselves to thoroughly complete each task assignment. As years go by our teachers and parents are less able to catch us in our stumbling and always make things right for us. We are expected to work out our problems at home and at school and accept the consequences for our actions, whether they be positive or negative. In Middle School we are learning that we must be responsible for our futures and we begin by becoming responsible members of our school community.

Secondly, the Grade 9 student is encouraged to be a role model for the younger Middle School students. We become leaders and learn to solve problems that arise, and we follow through with logical decisions. The graduate of the Middle School should be a role model who possesses the qualities of honesty, integrity, and openness; he should be someone who is looked up to and respected.

Finally, involvement with the College community is crucial. If we only take advantage of the academics between 8:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., what is the point of coming to Vancouver College? The College encourages us to participate in after-school activities such as football, basketball, track, wrestling, rowing, tennis, etc. These sports help us to learn how to be part of a team. They help us learn how to cooperate and interact with other people at our age level. By participating in sports and other extra-curricular activities at school we are preparing ourselves for the future when we will have to work with all sorts of people. Learning to work with others ensures success. By participating in sports at Vancouver College we experience winning and losing, both important lessons for students of the Middle School.

The qualities of leadership, responsibility and involvement begin development in Grade 9. These life skills need to be toned and honed daily throughout Grade 9 and always. A Grade 9 student must never lose sight of these exceptional qualities because they will stand him on firm ground in his future endeavors.

Grade 8

There has never been a school such as ours,
So big, so strong. To build it took endless hours.
It's a place of study, a place to grow,
A place to meet people, people we know.
It teaches us how to succeed in life:
Always be honest, be good to your wife.
Over the years, our school has gotten stronger,
Always to prevail, and to go forever
longer.
A place of making men from boys,
Through books and teachers, without toys.
A place of growing from young to old,
With warmth from the heart, never to be cold.
A place of life, a place of jiving,
A place for men striving and striving,
To be the best is all they ask;
For Vancouver College, it's not a hard task.
Vancouver College will always be purple and gold,
Happy Birthday V.C., seventy years old.

Grade 7

My parents decided to enroll me in Grade 7 at Vancouver College in the fall of 1991. This step marked a new beginning for me in my school life.

I noticed a difference about V.C. the first day I attended school. I found that wearing proper dress-shirt and pants, and a neck tie made a person feel responsible and proud. In the classrooms, the teachers appear dedicated, and my classmates are serious in their studies. We have a binder to organize our school work, and an agenda to remind us of our assignments.

Shortly after school started there was an election in our class and I was elected president, assisted by Michael Banting, vice-president, and Jonathan Lee as secretary-treasurer.

Brother Farrell is our Principal, Mr. McCormack, our Assistant Principal. These two are supported by an efficient group of office staff and teachers. My homeroom teacher is Mr. Michael Kim, and he teaches us Math, Science and Computers. He makes his lessons interesting and enjoyable. Mr. R. DesLauriers teaches us English and Social Studies. We have to be extremely careful and attentive in his classes. We make sure that we complete all our assignments on time, or we will be penalized. We find him a difficult task master, but kind-hearted and warm. Sister Shreenan teaches us Religious Studies and we make her lesson lively. Our Physical Education teacher, Mr. Choo, brings out the work and ability in all of us. Mr. Yvon Trepanier who teaches us French, is a great linguist who also teaches Japanese! Mr. Larry Olson is our band teacher who teaches us that life is not complete without music.

Life at V.C. is not all work. We have an active sports department with intramural basketball. Our school has a good football team, the "Fighting Irish", who have won many trophies in the past. We had a good senior basketball team last year. We hope they will do well this year too.

We had a number of school fund-raising activities. Most recently we had a successful walkathon for new lockers in the school. I managed to raise $758.20. I understand that there will be other such activities in the future.

This new beginning for me at Vancouver College will be the turning point in my life; I will be better prepared for the future.

Grade 4 will be an interesting year. This year we will learn more than we will in any other grade. This year we will become mature, but we will still have fun.

This is the first year I have had homework. Mrs. Kim has made it a lot easier though. In Socials Mrs. Kim and Mrs. Kavalec both teach us. We are learning about the people of the Haida. In Language we do everything from reading to writing stories. Math is my favorite subject. We have subtraction, addition and multiplication. If there was no math, there wouldn't be any homework. French would be more fun if I could understand it. In French we never get a second of free time. P.E. is the time that we get to talk. This year in P.E. we get to play everything. In P.E. I enjoy the homework!

On July 8, 1991, when my mother told me I was accepted in Vancouver College, I was filled with joy! I jumped up into the air. Then one week before school opens, Ms. Misley phoned. She sounded very nice. I felt I wanted to meet her right away.

The first day of school started, I felt so nervous, because I'm new and knew nobody in the classroom. I had about five friends on the fourth day of school. And after a week, I knew everyone, and felt comfortable in the classroom. I learned a lot from science which I didn't have in my former school.

I feel so great and proud going to V.C.

STAFF

Principal's Message

Each school year finds the College with a renewed student body. New students arrive to start their journey. Others return to continue theirs, a year older and wiser. Senior students graduate into a new phase of life. Each class has its own distinctive style, hopes and dreams. This year's student body's performance has ensured that the first seventy years of Vancouver College's tradition has ended with new and ever higher standards set for future generations to strive to achieve.

Second only to the student's contribution to the ongoing mosaic that is Vancouver College is the contribution of the dedicated staff. Led by the example of a quarter century of dedicated service of Mrs. Gloria Kim, Mr. Michael Kim, and Mr. John Kavalec, the staff has continued the tradition of pursuing academic excellence and caring genuinely for the students begun seventy years ago by Brother Lannon and the first Christian Brothers.

The parental community of Vancouver College through its involvement and support mirrors the dedication of the staff and the spirit of the students. The growth of the Parents' Association's financial support and activity involvement in recent years is challenging and reassuring.

The seeds of Catholic education which were sown seventy years ago by 4 Christian Brothers and 90 students are flourishing today at a Vancouver College tended carefully and dynamically by 950 students, 1,600 parents, and a staff of 70 including 5 Christian Brothers.

The lowly acorn has indeed grown into a mighty oak.

The challenge for Vancouver College today and in the near future is to continue to rise to new heights of excellence and achievement, and not only in academics and athletics. Programs such as Encounter Retreat and Peer Tutoring have elicited from our students a truly Christian outpouring of mutual support and caring. Such responses were at the heart of the reasons for the founding of the College. Edmund Ignatius Rice, and Jesus himself, must be truly pleased at the way our young people respond when provided with such opportunities.

To our graduates - a special note of thanks. Their achievements have been many, both academically and athletically. The class of 1992 has led by excellent example and dynamic participation. Perhaps this is their greatest gift to the ongoing evolution of Vancouver College. If future graduates strive to live up to established standards, the next seventy years will see Vancouver College reach heights which only the brave dare to imagine.

Whether graduating from Kindergarten or Grade 12, you and your families have contributed significantly to the success of this past school year. On behalf of the Christian Brothers and the whole Vancouver College school community, I wish you God's blessings on your future journeys, be they in the corridors of this school or the much broader corridors of life.

This year's edition of the Vancouver College Varsity Football Team has been destined since 1987 as the team that could do it all in 1991. They proved everyone right by carrying a year long number one ranking and an undefeated Canadian schedule into the play-offs and punished St. Thomas More 35-3 in the B.C. Final. This year Vancouver College was blessed with a group of talented athletes with depth. The team was backed by determined and dedicated coaches. The Irish credited their successes to their experienced seniors and enthusiastic grade elevens. The team was presented with three Provincial All-Star awards, twelve League All-Star awards and were led by the League's Defensive MVP, Bryan Chiu. Most importantly this team learned to support each other from B.C. Place, to the practice field, to the locker room, and even into the classroom. If this tradition remains at Vancouver College, the Fighting Irish will continue to dominate football with confidence and pride.

Our J.V. Football Team had its share of successes this season. They extended their winning streak to 17 games without a loss. By the end of the season the J.V.'s had five Grade 9 starters, showing great promise for the future. This team defeated this year's Junior Varsity Champions (R.C. Palmer) in regular season play by a score of 12-0. The Junior Varsity finished the season with a hard fought and gutsy display of determination, team work and character in a one point loss (20-19) to Carson Graham in quarter-final action. The captains and team thank their Head Coach Doug MacKenzie, the coaching staff and managers for all their support throughout the season. This team will be back!

The Fighting Irish continued their domination of Grade Eight Football by winning their 4th B.C. Championship in the past six years. The Irish showed their determination by coming back from three half-time deficits in league and play-off games. The success of the team was a direct result of an aggressive line who created huge openings for the backs and receivers. It is said that "Defense" wins "Championships" and the Irish Defense was simply outstanding in limiting their opponents' fire power. Congratulations on the fine team effort and the excellent direction and support from the coaching staff and managers. We are proud of your determination and achievement.

History of Football at Vancouver College

This year's Varsity Football Team created history on November 23, 1991 at B.C. Place when they seized the B.C. "AA" Football Provincial Championship. This day's outstanding achievement is indeed a highpoint in the 62 years of football at the College. Familiar with the longstanding Fighting Irish tradition, only a few players know the extent of its history, but as long ago as 1929 V.C. school spirit was already indomitable.

For the first 13 years, the Fighting Irish played the games by Canadian rules, but realized that their adversaries could not give them the competition they needed. In 1942 the College switched to American rules and started playing American teams like Seattle's O'Dea.

In 1946 the team finished with seven wins and one loss. Led by Head Coach Greg "Hardrock" Kabat, they are remembered as one of the school's greatest.

Not until 1956 did Coaches Fred Owens and Doug Reid lead the Irish to another seven-and-one season. Six members of this team, which played until 1958, went on to play professional football, including quarterback Pete Ohler and running back Roy Cameron, the only person to have his number (8) retired at V.C.

In 1967 a team led by Coach Pete Ohler tied Britannia for the first official provincial championship.

Football at Vancouver College is more than a passing interest. It is 62 years of tradition. The players of today look back and remember the football heroes who wore the same uniforms and trod the same fields. They find that the experience becomes part of them; something that time cannot take away. Once a part of the Fighting Irish, always a part of the Fighting Irish, whether player, fan, coach or manager.

The true strength of the Vancouver College Football Team comes from our roots and extends into our dreams that we can maintain the pride and spirit of Vancouver College.

Early in its history Vancouver College established itself in the arena of high school sports, sparking a strong school spirit among the students.

The first basketball squad of V.C. began in 1928 and consisted of eight determined students who played such formidable opponents as Kitsilano, King George, Magee, and Britannia. Although success was limited, College's continued effort showed much promise for the future. As the basketball program progressed so did student involvement and interest. In a short time V.C. proved itself a force to be reckoned with, and established a reputation which is still evident today. Determined efforts proved to be successful, and by the 1940's the teams were venturing across the border to play more competitive teams from the U.S.

Lack of competition and funding forced the College to play only in the city league in the early '40's and '50's where they once again earned their title of the "Fighting Irish". The V.C. team made its debut in the BC High school Tournament in 1946, where they had great success, earning two all-star positions (Maury Mulhern and Brian Mulhern) and a most-valuable player award by Maury Mulhern. The V.C. Junior Team won the Junior Championships in 1947 and 1948, and became the foundation of the BC Senior Championship Team of 1949.

Previous to 1950 our Varsity practised in Cartier Hall. With the opening of the new gym in 1950 an ambitious program of Bidy Basketball was initiated by Br. Malvey. Essentially, the Biddy program was a Grade 4-7 intramural program, operating with a three-quarter size basketball and six feet high hoops. Each team had its own coach and received intensive grounding in the game's fundamentals. On Saturdays the gym was reserved for Bidy participants and many of the teams had an opportunity to play during extended half-times of Varsity games. The highlight of the season was a "Biddy Night" where all teams played before their families and friends, and awards were presented. In conjunction with the Bidy League a Midget Program (Grades 7 and 8) was established by Br. Kelly and entered a squad in a league sponsored and run by the B.C. Amateur Basketball Association. Our Midget all-star teams played league games against club teams, and won 15 Lower Mainland titles and 10 B.C. Championships between 1956-1973. These two programs laid the foundations and provided the nucleus for the powerhouse teams of the late '50's and '60's.

Again the College swept the championship of 1957, and in 1960 won the Lower Mainland Tournament and then the BC Championship. In the 1962 and 1963 Lower Mainland Championships Neil Williscroft led his team to the BC's and earned himself the most-valuable player award in 1962 and an all-star award in 1963.

V.C. basketball took another step forward winning the BC Provincials in 1967 and visiting the Provincials several more times in the next decade and a half.

By the opening of the 1980 season V.C. had visited the Provincials 30 times, more than any other school in British Columbia, a record extended to 33 in 1991. By 1980 V.C. had played more B.C. Tournament games (92), won more than any other school (59) and earned a record 5 B.C. titles. By 1991 this winning tradition was extended to a record 115 played and 73 won. The College has won the Lower Mainland a record 9 times to 1991.

After two hard fought seasons in 1982 and 1983, the year of 1984 is remembered as the season of "Just-About's" as the "I" were knocked out of the Lower Mainland Tournament by a heart-breaking two point loss, ending the season as Champs of the Independent School League. 1985 marked another league championship and a visit to the BC Provincials. In 1986 the Irish also took the Lower Mainland Championships before their upset loss at the BC's. The 1988 season saw the emergence of a powerful team which fought its way to the semi-finals of the BC's. This young team again visited in the Agrodome in 1989. The Grade 8 Team won the B.C. Winter Games Gold Medal in 1988, 1989 and 1990.

As the College enters the '90's we witness some familiar scenes such as finishing first in our division, and in the 1990-91 season, reaching the final four in the BC Senior Championships.

Into the 1991-92 season we see a team of emerging potential. Led by Coach Bob Corbett the team has one goal in mind, that is, to add yet another championship jewel to our already impressive crown of achievements.

The expectations for this year's Varsity Basketball Team were very high. After losing only four players from last year's Provincial Final Four Team, the Irish earned a pre-season #1 ranking.

Consisting once again this year of a small group of talented seniors - Tyler Thompson, Paul Willisroft, Mica Federal, John Robertson, Chris Franks - and an abundance of Grade 11's, the team improved by leaps and bounds over the months and capped off a perfect league record of 8-0 with a convincing 98-57 win over Notre Dame on Senior Recognition Night.

After memorable trips to Las Vegas and Kelowna, and standing room only Emerald Tournament Final, the team headed into the play-offs with a #1 seed in the Lower Mainland Tournament with the Provincial title clearly in sight.

The team expresses its thanks and appreciation to Mr. Corbett, Al Falk, John Levring and the team managers: Kynan Cheng, Ian Rivas, and Jeff Fajardo. The team also thanks the best fans in all of B.C., and the staff and parents who supported them in all their endeavors.

Angelo Tsakumis (mgr.), ABSENT Assistant Coaches Derek des Vignes, Brian Pong.

The 1991-1992 season was a very successful and memorable one for the Junior Varsity Basketball Team at Vancouver College. Coached by Mr. Vito Pasquale, along with assistants Derrick desVignes and former V.C. graduate Brian Pong, the squad was 7-1 in league play, and won the 1992 Junior Emerald Tournament as well as the St. Michael's University Invitational Tournament. Ranked highly in the province throughout the season, the Irish were led by captains Nathaniel Watson-Donald, Brian Carino, and Mike Cobarrubia, who were supported by a strong bench staff with the likes of Tyler Federal, Sim Sahi, Tony Morgan, and Francisco Jubilo, as well as many other "unsung" players. These players battled hard in a province rich in talent, and had many memorable clashes with prominent teams from Palmer, M.E.I., and Burnett. The team qualified for the B.C. Championships held in Kelowna and this talented crew will contribute to the already strong Varsity Squad next year. The JV's would like to thank all the loyal fans and supporters who cheered us on as well as the many very helpful and patient parents who, altogether, made this a season to remember.

It was almost a fresh start for the Fighting Irish Cross Country team this year as only two members (one a senior) of last year's zone champs team returned. Despite inexperience, the team persevered and were able to place well enough in their zone to qualify for the Provincial Championships in Abbotsford. Through the blistering elements the team rose to the challenge four days a week at practice or at competitions. Many thanks to our coach, Mr. Langille, whose guidance and character led us through a successful season. "No matter who you have beaten, or who has defeated you, if you don't surpass yourself, you have already lost."

The 1991 Vancouver College Soccer Team began its season in late September with a series of try-outs. Coach Devenport, along with John Furch and Drew Gallagher, prepared the team for the tough season ahead. The Irish had a successful season, defeating St. Patrick's to claim the Independent League Trophy, and (in our first time entering the playoffs) defeating Van Tech 3-2. The team sincerely thanks all their supporters, especially our Fan of the Year, J.P. Larkin. With a host of rising young talent, soccer has a promising future at V.C.

Debating

On October 26, four students from Vancouver College went to challenge debaters from other private schools in the FISA tournament. Steven Carvalho, Adam Beaudin-Ball, Constant Leung, and I, after two weeks of research, managed to absorb all the information about the Soviet Union and prepared to debate on whether Gorbachev was instrumental in democratic reforms. Considering the experience and the time we had, we performed well during the debate. But, it is the experience that we most remember and enjoy.

The preparation period was both exciting and painful. At first, it seemed that it was impossible to grasp all the information in two weeks. Coupled with the fact that I had to prepare for the SAT during that time, it was a great challenge. Luckily, we managed to skim through numerous books and photocopy dozens of magazines. But, we were still lacking the time to write the speeches. Since we did not know which side we were going to debate on, we had to write four speeches, two for each side. The fact that we were still preparing our speeches showed just how tight our schedule was. However, looking back now, we feel proud for having overcome the difficulty.

The debate was exhausting but fun. Four hours of continuous debate provided us with both headache and learning opportunity. We learned a lot when we were embarrassed by the Opposition during the parliamentary debate; we began to understand the rules of cross-examination debate when we beat the other team. In conclusion, the debate took both endurance and intelligence. We are glad that we had the opportunity to experience it.

As first-year debaters, we experienced four hours of suspense, excitement, and embarrassment during the debate. The result turned out to be excellent for first-time debaters as we ranked number seven among the twelve schools. Most importantly, we have acquired an experience that will prepare us for future tournaments and improve our skills in public speaking.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our theme throughout this year has been unity. I truly believe brotherhood is an aspect that underscores the plethora of activities sponsored by the student council and other groups at Vancouver College. It is the binding thread which touches the lives of all who attend our school. On occasion the thread weakens when some lose interest in the common goal, but it is re-strung when each individual at V.C. feels a sense of belonging.

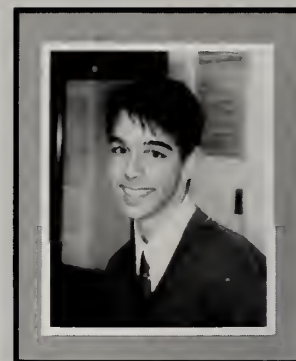

Dan Ryznar, Taki Galanopoulos, and I have sponsored and participated in many events, conferences, and committees in an attempt to promote such a spirit of brotherhood. New to Vancouver College was the Sports Executive Committee, whose function it was to fuel spirit for athletics. Though not a student council activity, the Encounter Retreat Program has contributed greatly to our goal. Similarly, a Spirit Week spearheaded by a rejuvenated Bro. Farrell resulted in the most enthusiastic week we have experienced at the College.

It is because of this brotherhood that the threads have grown stronger. We have enjoyed giving to this endeavor for we have received much from our time here. We challenge future students of V.C. to continue this tradition of spirit and unity.

Good luck and best wishes for continued happiness to fellow-grads.

Public Speaking

The 1991-92 Vancouver College Public Speaking Champion Speech
by Jai West

— Hockey: A Common Passion

Canadians: quiet, reserved, but not at a hockey game. Isolated, distinct one from another, but not at a hockey game. Hockey is part of life in this country. Hockey makes Canada feel more Canadian.

So much sets Canadians apart: distance, climate, language. What links us seems to be hopelessly overmatched: power-lines, rivers, and railways cannot create bonds. What links us are feelings, things we have in common, things we care about, things which make sense for us out of who and what we are. It is the game of hockey that brings Canadians together. In Canada hockey is an instinct, a need, an expectation passed from generation to generation. Hockey is a religion of convenience linking communities together, town to town, region to region, for young and old - something to talk about, a distraction from the long idle winters. Hockey is that something to share, that something which creates and strengthens the bonds. Hockey's a passion. For Canadians it is a common passion.

We often seem in Canada to have a shortage of world class events: wars and major catastrophes, the kinds of moments that make time stand still, that give you reason to recall where you were and what you were doing - JFK's assassination, Neil Armstrong setting foot on the moon. But only one Canadian event has left a similar trail of memory: Paul Henderson's goal with 34 seconds to go that won the Canada/Russia series. It was the most incredible hockey series ever played, pitting the best professional talent from Canada against the finest from the Soviet Union - an eight game extravaganza between the world's hockey super-powers.

Moscow, 1946. The first hockey game ever played in the Soviet Union. They learned how to skate from a game called Bandi. They were so far behind us, we thought they could never catch up. While we summered on golf courses, they trained, more hours a day, more months a year. How good could they be? We never cared to find out.

1972, the Canada/Russia Series. We knew we were the best, but more importantly the world had to know. There is much that is special about Canada, surrounded by countries richer, older, and more powerful, but we cling to every symbol. In 1972 nothing could have meant that much, but to Canada it did.

The Russians exposed us so utterly; playing a different way, they made us see our game for the first time. The game, the series, that fundamental something hockey meant to Canadians was being taken away. Then with one last desperate attempt, everyone in it together, faces and players alike, that magic moment in time: "Henderson makes a wild stab for it. Henderson! Henderson has scored for Canada!" That moment, forever written in Canadian hearts. We had won! We as Canadians had won.

Now the Soviet/Canada hockey war is over. The rivalry is gone. Almost twenty years after the '72 series the Russians allowed their stars to join the NHL. The mystique of defeating the Soviets is gone. Oh, sure we'll play them again, but look around. The Berlin Wall is down, the domination of the Communist Party is history. It's a far better world now and because of it, the game will never be the same. Yet hockey no longer holds the monopoly of time and attention it once held in this country. There are now so many other ways to tame and escape the winter, yet if water, pavement, airways and steel are instruments of community, so is a hockey rink.

Hockey is part of life in this country - kids wanting to make it, fans wanting to cheer and people wanting to hope and to have a sense of belonging. Hockey is our common passion.

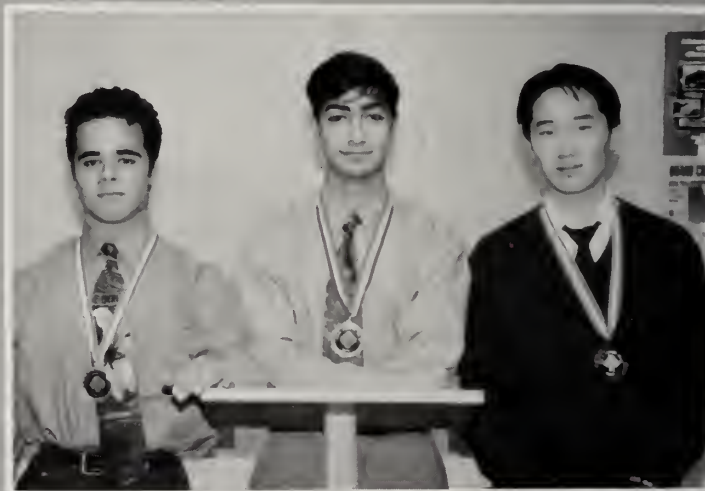

On the ice there are no issues. Canadians are as one. No differences between English and French - Gretzky to Lemieux. It is what links us together that is more important, not what separates us. What is important are the things we have in common, things we care about, things we share, things we are proud of. Hockey is that thing. For all Canadians it is a passion, a common passion.

After all Grade 10-12 students delivered their prepared speeches in their classes as part of the English curriculum at Vancouver College, the Annual V.C. High School Public Speaking Contest was held on December 10. Thirty students voluntarily entered the contest. The first place winners for each grade competed for the V.C. Public Speaking Championship Trophy, and the title this year was claimed by Jai West. Congratulations to all participants and winners for their excellent performances.

Never could there be a more appropriate and relevant theme than the Senior class motto of "Brotherhood of Mankind" to describe the success of the newly constructed and implemented Peer Tutoring Program at Vancouver College. Over 120 young men from Grades 10-12 came forward this year to offer their services in assisting their fellow students who were experiencing academic course difficulties.

It was largely the effort and responsibility of the Senior School students that made this program so successful in such a small period of time. Vancouver College is a school of many successes on and off the field, and the staff, students, parents and community can be proud of a group of lads who performed their tasks with pride and endeavor.

For those students from Grades 1-12 who received tutoring assistance this year, we hope that you found success (big or small) in your tutoring sessions and we will be there for you in the future.

The establishing of a working relationship with the Children's Hospital was a major highlight this year for the Peer Tutoring Program, befitting the College's community spirit and involvement. It is hoped that this joint venture will last for as long as the need is there.

Congratulations to a fine, caring group of young men for a job well done. A tradition has been established and the challenge for the future years will be to maintain that 'Brotherhood of Mankind' sense of spirit.

Student Service Ministry

As a new organization in Vancouver College the Student Service Ministry was not confined to certain bounds or functions. Therefore, under the broad directive: "serving others in light of the gospel", the Student Service Ministry expanded and flourished over the past year. With this general mandate in mind the ministry undertook numerous programs and activities which involved as many students as possible. These activities brought happiness to many people and gave the students who volunteered their time and effort experience in serving others, an important part of leading a full life.

The Student Service Ministry is an organization which involves students in the building of a strong community. By developing citizenship skills students will find fulfillment through a balance of giving and receiving. Too often we take and forget to give, so it is the ministry's aspiration to create an awareness and provide an outlet for students to give of themselves as a part of striving for this perfect balance in life.

PRESIDENT OF THE PARENTS' ASSOCIATION

During the past year, many of you have participated in the events sponsored by the school and by the Parents' Association. We are proud to be members of this association. Among its contributions to the school, we can list a strong support of the academic initiative shown by the Brothers and teachers: not only by offering scholarships and by funding curriculum change, but also by getting actively involved in activities during the school year.

This is what we must all do. We must show our sons that what they do at Vancouver College is important to us. They must see that our priorities involve them and their school life. In fact, the College enrolls families - not individuals. Those who get involved will reap the most from their school years.

When we parents attended school we studied for a specific job or career - many of those jobs do not exist today . . . and others are so changed that the concept of life-long learning is now beginning to dominate the educational scene. No longer do you "have it made" if you become a professional or if you start a business. You must now keep up with the explosion of knowledge in virtually any field you may choose.

How does one study for a career in Artificial Intelligence or Laser Technology or even Waste Management when we know that the information we learn today will be obsolete later in the day, surely by tomorrow. The answer lies in the concept of knowing how to learn. We must learn to take essential, critical skills and use them to develop new skills. In other words, we must learn to think and form opinions. Thus our learning process becomes essential and our support of our sons' endeavors is of the utmost importance.

Moderator's Message

With the experience of last year's annual under our belts, the yearbook staff launched into a challenging enterprise, Collegian '92. The many, many hours spent on this year's book proved to be most enjoyable. We were motivated, some may say driven, by several factors.

First, we wanted to mark in a special way the 70th anniversary of Vancouver College and share some of its rich history. The project quickly became a work of creativity which fueled imaginations and demands for perfection. Then, we discovered that with intense work we not only met deadlines, but also broke records by being early with submissions. This only propelled us feverishly on to improve the next installment. Quick responses from student writers and artists, teachers' cooperation with interruptions, and a generous support for ads spurred us on.

Finally this year was a special one because of the graduates. It is my belief that a school year's success depends largely on the nature of its grad class. The leadership of Grade 12's inevitably trickles down the grade levels and sets the tone and the spirit of the year. This year we were blessed with a particularly positive, enthusiastic and cooperative group of grads. One got a sense that the faculty were only too happy to go that extra mile for this group. This spirit between faculty and students made it a most enjoyable and rewarding year for us all. While the V.C. yearbook reflects all levels and activities at the College, the book is valued most by grads. We are confident that the grads and all others will be pleased with Collegian '92.

I sincerely thank the many generous students and faculty involved in this Herculean project. In particular, congratulations and thanks to Constant Leung and Jason Silva for their outstanding leadership and dedication in producing Collegian '92.

Enjoy.

Editor's Messages

I had a vision - a vision of the best yearbook Vancouver College had ever published. From this idealism sprang forth a plethora of creative suggestions, from taking pictures that carried the theme to balancing design elements throughout the book. As production deadlines approached, the best ideas gradually coalesced on the pages of the 1992 Collegian. Now, with most of the book sent to press, I am confident that my mandate has been fulfilled. This accomplishment is a tribute to the staff, friends, and supporters of the 1992 Collegian, without whom the book could not have been completed. Especially deserving of thanks are Mr. Reid Felske and the staff in Winnipeg who, remarkably, managed to decipher our perpetually illegible handwriting. I have one last comment on the year: regarding the cover (et alii), I would like to quote a couplet from John Greenleaf Whittier's poem "Maud Muller":

For of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these: "It might have been."

Constant Leung

Resuming my position as an editor for the second year brought forth another challenge. But this challenge slowly diminished due to the positive interest demonstrated by the students to get involved. My second and final year as an editor was an experience for me. We had a job to do and it was done.

I would like to express my gratitude for being able to take part in the creation of Collegian '92. Thanx to Mr. Nunes, the layout crew and the photography crew for all their time and hard work. This is my graduating year and that relieves me of my responsibilities associated with the Collegian. In a way I am saddened, but I am grateful because a new challenge lies ahead for Collegian '93.

C-ya. Good luck. Keep it comin'!

C onfederation of a Community

July 1, 1867. Confederation. It seems those two go together perfectly. Indeed it was on that glorious day that Canada became a nation. The birth of this nation brought together a new community and sparked a spirit of brotherhood. As this year, 1992, marks the 125th anniversary of Canada's Confederation, it also marks the 70th anniversary of Vancouver College's own confederation.

One hundred and twenty five years ago, the Fathers of Confederation brought together this great nation and made it one. Everybody from coast to coast (in later years) became brothers. A new community with its own unique blend of cultures was created. Today Canada is one of the most peaceful, multi-cultural nations in the world. This mosaic brings together new ideas and various points of view so that everybody can prosper and learn to live in peace.

In 1922, in the spirit of Edmund Ignatius Rice, the Christian Brothers founded Vancouver College, a new community. Bringing together young men from the Greater Vancouver area and beyond, a school community of brothers was formed. Individuals with different ideas, dreams, and points of view united to share a common purpose of pursuing knowledge about themselves, their world, and their God.

For 125 years Canada has grown to become one of the world's most attractive countries to live in. Our strength lies in our differences. We cherish being ourselves, but we also need to belong to something larger than ourselves. There is so much to discover and explore, and it is more rewarding to pursue this knowledge as a community while maintaining our individualities.

Similarly, Vancouver College is special for what it is. Instead of bringing together people from identical backgrounds, it brings together people from many different communities. Like Canada, V.C. is attractive because of the opportunities for one to excel and grow as individuals and as a group, not just in the classrooms or in the sports' arenas, but in life itself. More well-rounded individuals form a healthy, balanced community.

Therefore, it is fitting that these entities - Vancouver College and Canada, celebrate their respective anniversaries this year. 125 years for our country, Canada, and 70 years for our school. May they both continue to prosper for many more years to come so that future generations, our heirs, may share what we have been so fortunate to have.

A Tribute to Christopher Columbus

Many controversial and perturbing questions asked by educated historians and scholars have attacked the credibilities of Christopher Columbus's authenticity on the findings brought about during the voyage to and from the New World. Was Columbus the first European to reach the Caribbean Islands or other New World shores? Can we really say that Columbus "discovered" anything, since the lands he visited were already inhabited by millions of people? Questions such as these are naive and based upon technicalities, and demote Columbus' hard earned fame. What is certain is that Columbus's voyages, beginning in 1492, marked a change in prevailing views of the world. This change was for the better of mankind.

The coming of the present year, 1992, symbolizes the 500th anniversary year since Christopher Columbus began his persevered voyages to the unknown. When Columbus cast off into the unfamiliar waters of the Atlantic Ocean, many believed his expedition to the New World was a deathwish. Many unspeakable dangers lurked in the waters of the Atlantic Ocean: dangers such as whether or not he was going to return from his voyages because the people of his time believed he was sailing downward into nothingness; or whether he was to be maliciously devoured by legendary monsters from the sonorous, dark caverns of the sea-world. Despite the ominous predictions forecasted by the people of his time, Columbus, a man of great confidence, cast off into the unknown. He did so in 1492 out of curiosity, patriotism, and determination to find the mystical passageway to Asia in search of fabled riches. As we all know, Columbus did not find the water route to Asia. Instead he mistakenly stumbled upon the gateway to the New World. This historic event marked the beginning of a new era, the era of exploration.

Because of the historic expeditions of Christopher Columbus, many later significant achievements by others have bettered the future of mankind. Columbus proved that the world was indeed round. This gave confidence and assurance to explorers who were encouraged by the successful expeditions of Columbus. As a result, mapmaking and the study of geography flourished, and the finding of the Pacific Ocean by Vasco Nunez de Balboa followed. The spreading of the Christian Gospel in the New World, and numerous other achievements came through the success of Columbus's expeditions.

Christopher Columbus was a man of great knowledge, pride, and perseverance. He was indeed the master mariner, the voyageur of the unknown, and the bold adventurer. The success of his voyages has unlocked the gateway to new discoveries. As we reach the year 1992, it is appropriate to give Christopher Columbus untainted credit for the discovery of the New World during his 500th anniversary celebration. "Land ho!"

Walk-A-Thon

The challenge was proposed: to raise a record $60,000.00. When the dust had settled, and the feet had heeled, students surpassed all other walkathons to the tune of $62,000.00. Individual classes raised as much as $4,000.00 as students and teachers worked together to produce the most spirited walkathon of all times. The monies collected was spent on new lockers throughout the school and on a face-lift for the elementary play area. Other projects will be addressed as needs arise. Thanks to all who rose to the challenge and made the difference.

Encounter Retreats

Over 150 students and staff participated in three Encounter Retreat weekends in November, January, and April. The student led program helped participants learn more about themselves, others and God. Under the guidance of Mr. Joe Rogers several senior students planned and ran this peer ministry program. The Encounters began last year through the help of staff and students from the Christian Brothers' O'Dea High School of Seattle. Through the program the senior students have developed a strong sense of brotherhood and share that brotherhood by leading the Grades 9 and 10 retreats. The most visible sign of the students' commitment is seen by the many students who proudly wear their Encounter crosses. Special thanks to the many staff members who gave up their weekends to make the Encounter a highlight of the year for many students.

The Final Balance

“Fortunate, indeed, is the man who takes exactly the right measure of himself, and holds a just balance between what he can acquire, and what he can use, be it great, or be it small!” (Peter Mere Latham 1789-1875)

What is balance? Is balance a weighing device consisting essentially of a lever that is brought into equilibrium by adding known weights to one end while the unknown weight hangs from the other? Yes. Is it equality, stability, uniformity, symmetry, harmony or tranquility? Yes. Balance has many appropriate definitions and synonyms, but what is perfect balance? More importantly, what is perfect balance at Vancouver College?

Often many of us have difficulty trying not to be too arrogant or even too humble. It is difficult to evaluate ourselves when the opinions of others are so often perceived to be so much more significant. But those who are able to be humble as well as proud at the right moment are those who are auspicious and fortunate. “Fortunate, indeed, is the man who takes exactly the right measure of himself . . .” Peter Mere Latham could not have been exactly more right; he who assesses himself just right is, indeed, fortunate. That is balance within oneself. But balance is “. . . not an exertion that has a foreseeable end,” states Henry Alfred Kissinger. It is an ongoing struggle.

The best place to start searching for balance within oneself is in one’s community, more specifically, a school community. There is not a better school community than that of Vancouver College.

At Vancouver College, I am delighted to say, there are numerous opportunities for students and staff to excel. Whether it is academic or extra-curricular, if we put 110% into the community, we will receive 110% back. We are what we make of this school, and all doors are open to us. If we take advantage of what the school has to provide, we will flourish. And there is balance in all this. What we offer the school will be offered back to us. And whether we use these talents and gifts in a big way or a small way, it does not matter, for the balance, the Perfect Balance, is achieved “. . . and holds a just balance between what he can acquire and what he can use, be it great or be it small!”

Students and staff who have been at Vancouver College, be it for one year or seventy years, have experienced this sense of balance. For seventy wonderful years, since 1922, this school has provided many opportunities for anyone who was and is willing to experience symmetry and balance within himself. Achieving Honor Roll status as well as scoring touchdowns or sinking basketballs is what Vancouver College is all about; education is academic and extra-curricular activities. So everyone who comes away from this school is more well-rounded . . . more balanced. That is perfect.

Balance is everywhere; one needs just to open his eyes and see. Balance in nature is second to none. Balance is tranquility. Balance is symmetry. Balance is equilibrium. Balance is different for everyone, but perhaps most importantly, balance provides us all with peace of mind.

A black and white photograph of Joe Dumars in a white Adidas jersey and shorts, dribbling a basketball on a court. He is in a dynamic, low-to-the-ground stance, looking towards the left. A defender is partially visible on the left side of the frame. The background shows a blurred crowd of spectators.
